LOOK OVER SITES FOR BASE HERE

BULLETIN

That the properties offered in southern Orange county as possible dirigible base sites had indelibly impressed Rear Adm. W. A. Moffett, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics, and his dirigible base committee, was evidenced this afternoon when, after the inspection, Admiral Moffett declared the location and other factors to be ideal for dirigible operations.

ESCORTED by Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce officials and committee members and prominent citizens from other interested communities, the personnel of the Navy investigating board headed by Rear Admiral W. A. Moffatt, chief of the bureau of aeronautics, is making a personal tour this afternoon of Orange county sites that are offered as locations for the huge Navy dirigible base on the Pacific coast.

The board is to make recommendations to congress for the establishment of a location which will be headquarters for the United States Navy lighter-than-air activities, including hangars and equipment for the operation and maintenance of the two 800-foot giant dirigibles which the Navy is building. Estimates of the cost of the establishment of the base run close to the $2,000,000 figure and aided by the wonderful natural sites which are available in Orange county the chamber of commerce is making every effort to secure the approval of the board for the sites which they are proposing.

The Navy investigating board, which in addition to Admiral Moffatt is composed of Rear Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, member of the Navy general board, and former commander of the battle fleet aircraft squadrons at Los Angeles; Lieutenant Commander E. L. Marshall, of the Navy aircraft factory at Philadelphia; Commander Garland Fulton, of the design section of the bureau of aeronautics, and Lieutenant Commander C. E. Rosendahl, of the bureau of aeronautics and former commander of the dirigible Los Angeles, was entertained at luncheon at St. Ann's Inn today prior to their start of their tour of inspection. Members of the welcoming committee who lunched with the board and are escorting them on the tour this afternoon include A. J. Cruickshank, A. B. Rousselle, W. C. Jerome,

This committee is in Orange County today looking over sites on which to locate a dirigible base.

AGREEMENT ON NAVAL LIMITS NOT FAR AWAY

President Hoover and Premier MacDonald to Meet Next October

WASHINGTON, July 26, — The next step toward naval reduction may be an Anglo-American agreement equalizing cruiser strength, or combined cruiser and destroyer strength, of Great Britain and the United States by application of the so-called "Hoover yardstick," informed officials revealed today.

President Hoover and Premier MacDonald may reach such an agreement across a study table here in October, now that one great obstacle has been removed by the accord reached in London on the principle of parity in all categories of fighting ships. Secretary of State Stimson has characterized this agreement as "immensely important."

The first step in putting this agreement into practice is to apply the parity principle to cruisers, the main controversial point between the two nations, officials said. Whether the Hoover-MacDonald conversations will compete this step can only be conjectured, but friends of naval reduction had been cheered by the

Fruit Inspection Station Scheduled For Ridge Route

SACRAMENTO, July 26.—(UP)—Another fruit inspection station on highways leading into Los Angeles has been announced by the state department of agriculture.

The new station will be located on the ridge route at Lebec, supplementing one already established on the coast route. The station will be maintained jointly by the state, Los Angeles and Kern counties, according to George H. Hecke, director of the department.

"Without this inspection service along highways," said Hecke, "inferior quality produce was finding its way to market, much of it not fit for human consumption."

Newspaper Hits Stand Of Consul In Speeding Case

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—(UP)—Action of Dr. Hans Kroll, acting German consul, in claiming diplomatic immunity when cited to appear in a Palo Alto police court for speeding, today resulted in a heated editorial in the California Journal, German language newspaper.

The paper brands Kroll a "lummox" and asks that he be recalled to a "nice desk in the Wilhelmstrasse."

Kroll in turn said that the publishers of the paper were personal enemies of his and that as his intention to return to Germany in August was known, the editorial comment was "nonsensical."

50 MEN SEARCHING FOR MISSING BOY

WILLOWS, Calif., July 26.—(UP)—Searching parties today began their third day's search for Jack Keeran, 15-year-old Berkeley youth, believed lost in the mountains of Glenn county.

With the arrival of John F. Keeran, the boy's father, from Berkeley, an augmented force of 50 men familiar with the mountains began a systematic search of the territory into which the boy may have wandered.

Cold Creek, where young Keeran was fishing, and Butte river were combed by the searchers without result. Today the searching parties are covering the mountain ridges.

No theories have been advanced as to the youth's fate.

POINCARE RESIGNS AS FRENCH PREMIER

PARIS, July 26.—(UP)—Andre Tardieu, minister of the interior, informed the United Press tonight that Premier Raymond Poincare had resigned.

Poincare wrote a letter which he gave to Tardieu, saying he was obliged to take three to four months' rest so he could have an operation. Hence, Poincare said, he was unable to exercise the functions of premier.

TOKIO FLIGHT NOT TO START UNTIL SUNDAY

Bad Weather Along Northern Great Circle Route Is Reported

TACOMA, Wash., July 26.—(UP)—With weather conditions unfavorable locally and along the 4700 mile route he will take, the plans of Lieut. Harold Bromley to fly to Tokio were still uncertain today, a week after he brought his big monoplane north from Los Angeles.

Clouds and gusty winds prevailed at the airport during the night and weather bureau reports were of fog, rain and winds along the northern great circle route.

"It is very improbable I will get off before Sunday or Monday," Bromley said.

He said that he now planned to start his trip about 5 a. m., instead of at dawn, between 3 a. m. and 4 a. m.

The airport was a scene of renewed activity as mechanics worked about the plane following a test flight yesterday and as preparations were made to reconstruct a wooden incline at the southwest end of the runway.

Bullfighter From U. S. Draws Crowd At Madrid Debut

MADRID, July 26.—(UP)—Sydney Franklin, the American bullfighter, made his Madrid debut last night before a crowd of 13,000 spectators and, although knocked down and dragged 50 feet by one of the bulls he faced, was roundly applauded.

Franklin killed the first bull with one sword thrust. The second bull, however, lunged at him and knocked him to the ground, dragging him a distance of 50 feet before Franklin could regain his feet.

Franklin, whose home is in Brooklyn, N. Y., had appeared previously in other bull rings of Spain. An appearance at Madrid, however, is regarded as the high point in a matador's career.

SUPERVISORS, ADVISORS, REPLY TO COL. FINLEY

DENY ANY PRESSURE BROUGHT TO BEAR ON ENGINEER BAILEY TO FAVOR LOWER SITE FOR DAM

THE board of supervisors, members of the advisory committee on flood control and attorneys for the Orange county flood control district today replied to statements made recently by Col. S. H. Finley, former supervisor from Santa Ana, who indicated a belief that pressure had been brought to bear on Paul Bailey, former flood control engineer, to induce him to make a report in favor of the lower damsite in the Santa Ana canyon.

The statement, written by T. E. Stephenson and signed by the board, the advisory committee and the attorneys, denied absolutely that any pressure had been brought to bear on Bailey or that the selection of the damsite was made by laymen rather than engineers. Stephenson was in charge of publicity for the flood control bonds during the recent campaign.

The statement was not presented for signatures to C. H. Chapman, supervisor from Santa Ana; C. E. Utt, Tustin; and Donald Dodge, Costa Mesa, members of the advisory committee, because they are away on vacations and could not be reached.

It was not presented to J. J. Dwyer, of Anaheim, also a member of the advisory committee, because of the fact that he did not vote for the acceptance of the engineer's report.

The statement follows:

TO THE PEOPLE OF ORANGE COUNTY:

Since certain individuals and a newspaper, for whatever motives, have seen fit to attack the sincerity and good intentions of the Board of Supervisors, the Advisory Board, the engineers and the attorneys of the Orange County Flood Control District, we make this statement to you. This statement is made for the reason that we, with you, are deeply and chiefly concerned with the welfare of the county in securing adequate flood control and conservation of water, and in justice to this cause we cannot sit idly by and allow you to be misinformed or misled.

Throughout the Flood Control District's investigation, lasting nearly two years, we all recognized that the problem before us was one of high consequence, to be settled by our for generations to come. As the investigation proceeded, every phase of the problems uncovered by surveys, engineering, geological and legal reports was given close attention in an open-minded way, and decisions were reached upon the data and advice presented to us by men of recognized integrity and ability and of high standing in their professions.

First of all, our aims and objects and instructions had in mind the one big purpose: that is, to work out a plan for the good of all Orange county. No instructions were given to any engineer or any other person connected with the investigation to favor any site or any person's views or any organization's views. In general, the instructions insisted that whatever dams were designed must be the safest known to the engineering profession. Safety was of paramount importance, regardless of any other considerations.

In all sincerity, we say to the people of Orange County that we, the undersigned, throughout this investigation and in the adoption of our official report to you and in the submission of bonds to you, had no preconceived plan, but entered the investigation and proceeded throughout with open minds, seeking the best plan for Orange county.

Further, we say to you that we as individuals and as parts of the Flood Control District organization attempted no influence of any sort upon any engineer, geologist or other person connected with this investigation in order to secure any decision of any kind, and in particular we did not use any influence of any kind to secure or seek a deci-

Missing Girl Of La Habra In Palo Alto

Helen DeGray Writes to Parents She Is Working At Soda Fountain

MISS HELEN DeGRAY, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. DeGray, pioneer La Habra residents, who disappeared July 18 in Long Beach, is working in an ice cream parlor in Palo Alto, according to a letter received by the parents yesterday from their daughter.

Mrs. DeGray probably will leave in a day of so for Palo Alto for a talk with her daughter, whose disappearance caused police authorities throughout California to conduct an extensive search for her.

The girl wrote that she was "well and happy." She expressed a willingness to return home if her parents so desired. The parents wired their daughter last night inquiring whether or not she really wanted to come home.

According to reports, Miss DeGray failed to tell in her letter where she went after disappearing in Long Beach, where she had gone with a friend, Kenneth Agnew. She grabbed the ignition key to Agnew's car and when the machine slowed down, jumped off and ran down the street.

Acting on information that the girl had been in Newport Beach, officers made a hurried trip there Wednesday night. Pictures of the girl and her description were sent to police authorities and newspapers throughout the state.

5 FOREST FIRES BURNING IN IDAHO

BOISE, Ida., July 26.—(UP)—Five forest fires are now blazing in Idaho, one of them burning over 5000 acres in the vicinity of Salmon and three others burning on 1000 acre tracts near Dickey, Challis and Lowman.

A crew of 25 fire fighters was recruited in Boise early today and sent to the Lowman fire, which is on the edge of a big body of virgin pine on Chapman creek, one of the tributaries of the Payette river.

PEACE PACT NEEDS TEETH-SEN. CAPPER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—(UP)—"The Kellogg peace pact is the greatest step so far taken toward world peace, but it needs some method of enforcement. It needs teeth."

This was the opinion expressed by Sen. Arthur Capper, of Kansas, who arrived here today.

Anaheim Chinese, 80, Arrested On Narcotic Charge

Accused by officers of being connected with a Los Angeles narcotic ring, Henry Kom, 80, alias Wong Kim, was arrested by state and Anaheim officers in his laundry at 180 West Chartress street, Anaheim, this afternoon on a charge of possession of narcotics. He will have his preliminary hearing before Judge Eldon Stark tomorrow morning.

Officers said they found the following articles concealed in his office: Ten tins of opium, four yenhocks, four bentels, four bindels of yenshes, two opium pipes, four opium bowls, two cartons of opium tips, two opium scales, four opium lamps, two opium tips and two picket knives smeared with opium.

The arrest was made by Capt. Marcus Andrade, of the Anaheim department, and Grant Peters, R. S. Robinson, Otto Achlinske and E. A. Phillips of the state narcotic detail.

320TH HOUR PASSED BY TWO FLYERS

Fine Weather Greets Intrepid Airmen Today; Engine Purrs Smoothly

GOAL IS 500 HOURS

Stamina of Aviators Cause Of Much Comment from Men Stationed on Field

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—(UP)—The St. Louis Robin endurance plane soared on today, unfaltering in the longest flight on record, and at 3:17 p. m., central standard time, passed its 320th hour with as much apparent ease as it did the first.

Some of the finest weather of the past two weeks—which have been exceptionally calm.—favored Dale Jackson and Forrest O'Brine as they guided their "golden goose" through cloudless skies.

It's a "golden goose" to the two men as every day they keep it aloft means approximately $3000 to them in extra flying awards.

Meanwhile, plans were under way at Lambert-St. Louis field for reception of Jackson's aerially minded parents, reported enroute by air from their home at Faribault, Minn. O'Brine's parents arrived here by motor several days ago.

Both flyers are "feeling fine and getting fat," they assured ground watchers in a message. "The old motor hasn't changed a bit, that I can see," Jackson added.

Five hundred hours appeared to be their goal, and they had the assurance of Arthur Nutt, designer of their Challenger motor, that from the sound of their power unit that was not unattainable.

In a message dropped at 5:17 a. m., Jackson today reported "everything still going good."

"Say, someone tell those reporters to get wise to themselves. We can't stay in the air at 45 miles with the load we've got. First place the ship lands at 48. Now, if they can fly at 45 I want to see it.

"They must think we have a balloon up here. Send up four new spark plugs. Regards, Red."

The stamina of the two men has begun to cause as much comment as the rugged reliability of their motor. They eat only two meals a day, prepared for them by their wives, and drink milk instead of coffee, probably accounting for their "getting fat."

Flight of the Robin thus far has more than doubled that of the army plane, Question Mark, which early this year startled aviation circles by remaining aloft 150 hours. The flyers are 103 hours ahead of the Billion Dollar City of Houston and 236 hours ahead of the monoplane Minnesota, with which they have joined in rivalry for endurance honors.

HORACE HEAD MAKES REPLY TO STATEMENTS OF STUART LUCAS AND EX-SUPERVISOR FINLEY

By HORACE C. HEAD

STUART H. LUCAS is president of the self-styled Water Users association. His use of water is confined to that which he draws from a faucet at his home in Newport Beach, where the whispered slogan is: Swat all bonds unless harbor bonds are included.

Mr. Lucas has written a piece for the papers in which he accuses the County Supervisors of being crooks, because he says they employed an engineer to report a plan for flood control and then "directed" the nature of that report. His statements decidedly reflect on the integrity and ability of Mr. Bailey. Mr. Lucas then says that the supervisors appointed representatives of the water companies on its advisory board and employed as its attorney the attorney for the water companies and thus made the whole program "a program of the water companies rather than of the people;" and, as the Register points out, raises a question "concerning the motives and sincerety of the legal advice" of that attorney.

I am the attorney whom Mr. Lucas puts in his class of crooks; and, while there are many water companies in Orange county, evidently when he speaks of "the water companies" he refers to the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company and the Anaheim Union Water Company.

For many years I have been attorney for the Anaheim Union Water Company, but have never been attorney for the S. A. V. I. Co. Further more, Judge R. Y. Williams and I acted together as advisors of the supervisors on legal matters connected with flood control, and Judge Williams was not attorney for either of the two water companies. We were not asked and offered

(EDITORIAL)

DON'T BE CONFUSED

The readers of The Register should not be confused by the statement that no site had been determined upon prior to the engineer's report.

There seemed to be a determination on their part rather not to take the upper site, namely, the Prado site. The effort was directed entirely to get some other location. It is to be noted that the engineer in reporting to the publisher of this paper did not say that political influences were being used on the lower site, but were being used to prevent the adoption of the upper one. Or, as he said, to locate the dam down the river farther.

Colonel Finley brings out the same point in his statement. The chairman of the board of supervisors does not deny in his statement that there was an agreement against the upper site. He does deny that there was any agreement as to the adoption of the lower site, so that there isn't any serious difference in these statements. It seems that those who were determined against the upper site, for their own business reasons, were not so particular about where else the dam was located, as long as it was in a different position. It was, in other words, any port in a storm. We call this to your attention, as a valuable side light upon the way statements can be made so positive and appear to be denials when they are denying something the other party did not affirm.

Since certain individuals and a newspaper, for whatever motives, have seen fit to attack the sincerity and good intentions of the Board of Supervisors, the Advisory Board, the engineers and the attorneys of the Orange County Flood Control District, we make this statement to you. This statement is made for the reason that we, with you, are deeply and chiefly concerned with the welfare of the county in securing adequate flood control and conservation of water, and in justice to this cause we cannot sit idly by and allow you to be misinformed or misled.

Throughout the Flood Control District's investigation, lasting nearly two years, we all recognized that the problem before us was one of high consequence, to be settled by our for generations to come. As the investigation proceeded, every phase of the problems uncovered by surveys, engineering, geological and legal reports was given close attention in an open-minded way, and decisions were reached upon the data and advice presented to us by men of recognized integrity and ability and of high standing in their professions.

First of all, our aims and objects and instructions had in mind the one big purpose: that is, to work out a plan for the good of all Orange county. No instructions were given to any engineer or any other person connected with the investigation to favor any site or any person's views or any organization's views. In general, the instructions insisted that whatever dams were designed must be the safest known to the engineering profession. Safety was of paramount importance, regardless of any other considerations.

In all sincerity, we say to the people of Orange County that we, the undersigned, throughout this investigation and in the adoption of our official report to you and in the submission of bonds to you, had no preconceived plan, but entered the investigation and proceeded throughout with open minds, seeking the best plan for Orange county.

Further, we say to you that we as individuals and as parts of the Flood Control District organization attempted no influence of any sort upon any engineer, geologist or other person connected with this investigation in order to secure any decision of any kind, and in particular we did not use any influence of any kind to secure or seek a deci-

HORACE HEAD MAKES REPLY TO STATEMENTS OF STUART LUCAS AND EX-SUPERVISOR FINLEY

By HORACE C. HEAD

STUART H. LUCAS is president of the self-styled Water Users association. His use of water is confined to that which he draws from a faucet at his home in Newport Beach, where the whispered slogan is: Swat all bonds unless harbor bonds are included.

Mr. Lucas has written a piece for the papers in which he accuses the County Supervisors of being crooks, because he says they employed an engineer to report a plan for flood control and then "directed" the nature of that report. His statements decidedly reflect on the integrity and ability of Mr. Bailey. Mr. Lucas then says that the supervisors appointed repreeentatives of the water companies on its advisory board and employed as its attorney the attorney for the water companies and thus made the whole program "a program of the water companies rather than of the people;" and, as the Register points out, raises a question "concerning the motives and sincerety of the legal advice" of that attorney.

I am the attorney whom Mr. Lucas puts in his class of crooks; and, while there are many water companies in Orange county, evidently when he speaks of "the water companies" he refers to the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company and the Anaheim Union Water Company.

For many years I have been attorney for the Anaheim Union Water Company, but have never been attorney for the S. A. V. I. Co. Further more, Judge R. Y. Williams and I acted together as advisors of the supervisors on legal matters connected with flood control, and Judge Williams was not attorney for either of the two water companies. We were not asked and offered

(EDITORIAL)

DON'T BE CONFUSED

The readers of The Register should not be confused by the statement that no site had been determined upon prior to the engineer's report.

There seemed to be a determination on their part rather not to take the upper site, namely, the Prado site. The effort was directed entirely to get some other location. It is to be noted that the engineer in reporting to the publisher of this paper did not say that political influences were being used on the lower site, but were being used to prevent the adoption of the upper one. Or, as he said, to locate the dam down the river farther.

Colonel Finley brings out the same point in his statement. The chairman of the board of supervisors does not deny in his statement that there was an agreement against the upper site. He does deny that there was any agreement as to the adoption of the lower site, so that there isn't any serious difference in these statements. It seems that those who were determined against the upper site, for their own business reasons, were not so particular about where else the dam was located, as long as it was in a different position. It was, in other words, any port in a storm. We call this to your attention, as a valuable side light upon the way statements can be made so positive and appear to be denials when they are denying something the other party did not affirm.

320TH HOUR PASSED BY TWO FLYERS

Fine Weather Greets Intrepid Airmen Today; Engine Purrs Smoothly

Stamina of Aviators Cause Of Much Comment from Men Stationed on Field

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—(UP)—The St. Louis Robin endurance plane soared on today, unfaltering in the longest flight on record, and at 3:17 p. m., central standard time, passed its 320th hour with as much apparent ease as it did the first.

Some of the finest weather of the past two weeks—which have been exceptionally calm.—favored Dale Jackson and Forrest O'Brine as they guided their "golden goose" through cloudless skies.

It's a "golden goose" to the two men as every day they keep it aloft means approximately $3000 to them in extra flying awards.

Meanwhile, plans were under way at Lambert-St. Louis field for reception of Jackson's aerially minded parents, reported enroute by air from their home at Faribault, Minn. O'Brine's parents arrived here by motor several days ago.

Both flyers are "feeling fine and getting fat," they assured ground watchers in a message. "The old motor hasn't changed a bit, that I can see," Jackson added.

Five hundred hours appeared to be their goal, and they had the assurance of Arthur Nutt, designer of their Challenger motor, that from the sound of their power unit that was not unattainable.

In a message dropped at 5:17 a. m., Jackson today reported "everything still going good."

"Say, someone tell those reporters to get wise to themselves. We can't stay in the air at 45 miles with the load we've got. First place the ship lands at 48. Now, if they can fly at 45 I want to see it.

"They must think we have a balloon up here. Send up four new spark plugs. Regards, Red."

The stamina of the two men has begun to cause as much comment as the rugged reliability of their motor. They eat only two meals a day, prepared for them by their wives, and drink milk instead of coffee, probably accounting for their "getting fat."

Flight of the Robin thus far has more than doubled that of the army plane, Question Mark, which early this year startled aviation circles by remaining aloft 150 hours. The flyers are 103 hours ahead of the Billion Dollar City of Houston and 236 hours ahead of the monoplane Minnesota, with which they have joined in rivalry for endurance honors.

speedy work of Ambassador Dawes and MacDonald thus far.

President Hoover's plan for a "yardstick" or formula to equalize British and American naval strength, making allowances for the greater number of small cruisers desired by Britain as against the United States larger ships, was believed partly instrumental in clearing the way for the parity agreement.

Now if a formula satisfactory to both nations can be drafted by October, when Premier MacDonald is coming to discuss naval reduction with Mr. Hoover, the way would be clear for an agreement, officials believe. It would take only a few weeks to put such an agreement in treaty form and have it signed, once the two government leaders had endorsed it. Then it would have to be submitted to the British parliament and the American senate for ratification.

Secretary of State Stimson has disclosed that other naval powers have been advised of the London conversations between MacDonald and Ambassador Dawes which led up to the parity agreement, but the other nations were not effected by the questions taken up in the conversations, he said.

HELD TO TRIAL ON NON-SUPPORT COUNT

William LaTouche, 41, oil worker, of 2804 North Sutter street, Stockton, was brought to the county jail here last night from Stockton by Sheriff Sam Jernigan and Deputy Sheriff E. L. Humiston. He was booked on a charge of non-support.

In a complaint filed in the justice court, LaTouche is charged with failure to provide for two children, 16 and 10 years old, respectively.

He was held to answer to the superior court at the conclusion of his preliminary examination before Justice Kenneth Morrison this morning. He failed to provide bail of $1500.

Three persons were fined $2 each in police court yesterday on charges of overtime parking. They were J. J. McCarter, Clinton Reynolds and W. Rohrbacher.

Amended Articles Of Incorporation Are Filed By Fox

Amended articles of incorporation for the Fox West Coast theaters, increasing the capital stock from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000, were filed today in the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs.

The Fox West Coast organization recently purchased the former Yost Broadway theater here, as well as other playhouses in Orange county, including the Fox Mission theater, in Fullerton, and the former Yost Spurgeon and West End theater, in Santa Ana.

PACKING HOUSE CLAIMS BREACH OF CONTRACT

Asking $11,941 in damages for alleged breach of contract, the Placentia Co-operative Orange Growers' association today brought suit against Lewis Henning, member of the marketing organization. The complaint alleged that Henning had agreed to market fruit from his 45-acre valencia orange grove exclusively through the Placentia association, but that he had disposed of 23,882 field boxes of fruit through another marketing concern.

Henning failed to notify the association of any intention to cancel his alleged contract, the complaint said, pointing out that the by-laws provided that notice of such action must be made before December 15 to affect the following crop.

The complaint also said that the contract provided that the association was entitled to collect 50 cents per field box of fruit marketed in another organization after breach of contract.

MANAGER HONORED BY FRUIT WORKERS

TUSTIN, July 26.—A dinner was given by the workers in the lemon plant and the graders in the orange plant of the Golden West Citrus association in honor of Forest Collar, manager of the packing house last night. He was presented with a smoking stand by the employes.

About 50 people were present, including Mr. Myler, manager, and Mrs. Pierson, forelady, at the orange packing house.

NAVAL BOARD LOOKING OVER SITES IN S. A.

Clyde Jenken, Burl Morthland, W. G. Knox, J. P. Greeley of Balboa, Dr. C. G. Huston, of Costa Mesa, Carl Mock, J. C. Wallace, James F. Archibald, who has been representing the Orange county interests in the matter at Washington, Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, George Jeffrey, of Irvine, James Irvine jr., Frank Purinton, John Mitchell and George Raymer.

The board arrived today from Torrance where it had investigated a site offered. It left Long Beach, where the tour of inspection wound up yesterday, at 9 o'clock this morning. The day yesterday was spent in looking over three proposed sites near Los Angeles and Long Beach. Two major handicaps were revealed from the tours conducted yesterday, one of which was the high price of the acreage near Los Angeles, and the other the absence of definite meteorological data concerning the sites. Members of the board are reported to have asserted that land offered in other locations has been much cheaper than anything they have yet seen in Southern California.

During the tour being made this afternoon three definite locations, one on the Irvine ranch, one north of the Santa Ana Country club and one between Santa Ana and Greenville, will be submitted to the investigating board, and propositions made. Raymer indicated before the tour started that other territory would be offered if the board desired to see other sites and that the committee would get any location that the board would indicate as being desirable.

BUILDING, LOAN CONCERNS HERE SHOW BIG GAINS

Combined resources of $5,448,373 were reported by the three building and loan associations of Santa Ana as of June 30, last, an increase of $381,510, or 7.53 per cent for the preceding three-month period, according to figures released yesterday by the California Building-Loan league.

The Santa Ana building and loan associations reported as follows:

Home Mutual Building and Loan association, $4,093,720; Santa Ana Building and Loan association, $1,101,578; Southwest Building and Loan association, $253,015.

Aggregate assets of the 241 California associations reported to Commissioner George S. Walker as of June 30, last, were $443,288,334, compared with $337,706,657 a year ago, $386,103,037 six months ago and $422,347,186 three months ago.

This represents an increase in assets of $105,581,677, or 31.26 per cent, during the 12-month period; $57,185,297, or 14.81 per cent, during the last six months, and $20,941,148, or 4.96 per cent, during the last quarter.

Combined resources of California building and loan associations have increased 308 per cent during the last five years, according to the state league. The gain in resources during the last year is equal to the total resources in the state as of June 30, 1924.

Razorback Clams Prove Magnet For Beach Residents

SUNSET BEACH, July 26.—With buckets and spades, clad in bathing suits, clam diggers follow the receding tides in the sloughs and canals at Sunset Beach in search of razorback clams. The clams make choice bait for fishing and are not bad eating. The water courses at Sunset Beach seem to furnish an exhaustless harvest of clams in the mid-summer season. Early morning and late evening are the favorite hours for the sport.

Barber City Club Arranges Affair

BARBER CITY, July 26.—Invitations are out for the Barber City Improvement club party, which is to be held Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnson. The invitations are in the form of small socks and those receiving them are to put into them double the amount of pennies of the size hose they wear, this to go into the Improvement club's treasury. The affair will be a lawn party and interesting features have been arranged by the committee in charge.

25 CANDIDATES ARE ACCEPTED BY S. A. SCIOTS

At the ceremonial staged by Santa Ana Pyramid, No. 41, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, in the Knights of Pythias hall, last night, 25 candidates were initiated. Uniformed bodies were present from Santa Monica, Long Beach, San Bernardino, Glendale and San Diego, with large delegations from each pyramid.

Out-of-town dignitaries present included the supreme pharaoh, Ernest W. Dort, of San Diego; Toparch J. K. Ward, San Diego pyramid No. 32; Mayor Harry Clark, mobib of San Diego pyramid; Past Pharaoh James A. Lynch, of Long Beach; Deputy Pharaoh Ralph W. Logsdon, San Bernardino; Toparch Peoples, Glendale pyramid No. 39; Toparch Clickner, San Bernardino, pyramid No. 38; Past Toparch Hill, San Bernardino; and Toparch Ray Johnston, Long Beach pyramid No. 43.

The meeting opened with balloting on petitions at 7 o'clock followed by a parade at 7:30 p. m. A show and entertainment by the stunts committee, composed of D. S. Crawford, J. G. Sutherland, Dr. C. V. Doty, D. B. Peddy, Frank Pitner, W. V. Whitson and Ray Wyckoff, was the diversion after the parade. J. F. McWilliams, W. R. Sylvester, W. J. Dean and Elmer Smith comprised the entertainment committee.

License Tests To Be Given Rotary At Tuesday Meet

New traffic laws will be explained and an opportunity to take the examinations for the new operators' licenses will be given at the Rotary club luncheon next Tuesday, it was announced today by Ralph Smedley, president of the organization.

A talk on the new laws will be made to Rotarians and their guests at an open meeting by John L. Berryman jr., associate chief counsel of the Southern California Automobile club. Traffic officers will be present with materials for giving examinations after the meeting and the opportunity to take the test will be given, thus relieving congestion at traffic headquarters.

W. A. Taylor is chairman of the entertainment committee for the meeting next Tuesday.

Court Notes

LeRoy McDaniels was sentenced to six months in the county jail yesterday in superior court on a charge of petty theft. He had changed his plea from not guilty to guilty.

Emily S. Pyle, administratrix of the will of the late J. F. Spotts, brought suit against F. F. Thorp and Anna Thorp today, seeking judgment for $745.91, alleged to be due on a promissory note for $1000. The complaint said that the note had been secured by a trust deed on Santa Ana property, that the plaintiff had caused a trustee's sale, but that $745.91 remained due on the note after the net proceeds of the sale had been credited.

Seeking judgment for $1893.33, alleged to be due for room, board and nursing services, supplied for the late Lilla A. Camfield, Bernice E. Moore today brought suit against H. Z. Adams, executor of the will of the deceased. Only $350 of the alleged debt has been paid, leaving $1893.33 due and unpaid, the complaint said.

Albert Hoffman pleaded guilty to a charge of non-support when he was arraigned in superior court today. Sentence will be pronounced at 9:30 a. m., next Monday.

Information charging Jim Schofield with a statutory offense was filed in superior court today. The case was continued to next Friday, when it is understood a demurrer to the information will be filed.

Information charging W. L. Reese with non-support was filed in superior court today. Raymond Thompson was appointed to represent the defendant. The case was continued to 1:30 p. m. Reese said he had used the name Walter Lee in addition to the name under which the information was filed.

In a case appealed from the Santa Ana justice court by the plantiff, E. C. McKinstry today asked judgment for $299 from George W. Preston and Ed Cripe. According to the complaint, Cripe parked a truck belonging to Preston on the highway, three miles west of Garden Grove, in such a way that the plaintiff's car collided with it.

Minnie I. Tucker today brought suit for divorce against Samuel M. Tucker. The complaint alleged that Tucker had associated with another woman, that he had whipped his wife, that he had failed to provide for her and that he had deserted her. They were married in 1908 and separated in 1928, the complaint stated.

DRIVER ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Guy A. Dunham, 34, of 244 East Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton was arrested by Fullerton police last night on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

He was turned over to Deputy Sheriffs Jemison and Ryan, who brought him to the county jail.

Dunham was on parole at the time he was arrested, according to officers, and a charge of violation of parole may be filed against him in addition to the liquor charge.

PLAINTIFF IS AWARDED $525 IN CITRUS DEAL

H. V. Carse was given judgment in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court for $525 in a case directed against M. Luther, in which the plaintiff asserted that Luther had refused to carry out an agreement for the sale to Carse of 15,000 seedling orange plants at $25 per thousand.

Luther alleged in his answer that he had given notice to Carse that he believed the latter should accept the trees before April 15. The answer said that Carse had defaulted under the agreement of purchase.

Carse, on the other hand, claimed to have demanded delivery of the trees on April 14, asserting that Luther had refused to deliver them. Carse had asked $900 in damages and $150 which he alleged he had paid to Luther when the agreement was made, but which he said Luther had refused to return to him.

G. K. Scovel appeared for the plaintiff and H. L. Dearing for the defendant.

25 CANDIDATES ARE ACCEPTED BY S. A. SCIOTS

At the ceremonial staged by Santa Ana Pyramid, No. 41, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, in the Knights of Pythias hall, last night, 25 candidates were initiated. Uniformed bodies were present from Santa Monica, Long Beach, San Bernardino, Glendale and San Diego, with large delegations from each pyramid.

Out-of-town dignitaries present included the supreme pharaoh, Ernest W. Dort, of San Diego; Toparch J. K. Ward, San Diego pyramid No. 32; Mayor Harry Clark, mobib of San Diego pyramid; Past Pharaoh James A. Lynch, of Long Beach; Deputy Pharaoh Ralph W. Logsdon, San Bernardino; Toparch Peoples, Glendale pyramid No. 39; Toparch Clickner, San Bernardino, pyramid No. 38; Past Toparch Hill, San Bernardino; and Toparch Ray Johnston, Long Beach pyramid No. 43.

The meeting opened with balloting on petitions at 7 o'clock followed by a parade at 7:30 p. m. A show and entertainment by the stunts committee, composed of D. S. Crawford, J. G. Sutherland, Dr. C. V. Doty, D. B. Peddy, Frank Pitner, W. V. Whitson and Ray Wyckoff, was the diversion after the parade. J. F. McWilliams, W. R. Sylvester, W. J. Dean and Elmer Smith comprised the entertainment committee.

License Tests To Be Given Rotary At Tuesday Meet

New traffic laws will be explained and an opportunity to take the examinations for the new operators' licenses will be given at the Rotary club luncheon next Tuesday, it was announced today by Ralph Smedley, president of the organization.

A talk on the new laws will be made to Rotarians and their guests at an open meeting by John L. Berryman jr., associate chief counsel of the Southern California Automobile club. Traffic officers will be present with materials for giving examinations after the meeting and the opportunity to take the test will be given, thus relieving congestion at traffic headquarters.

W. A. Taylor is chairman of the entertainment committee for the meeting next Tuesday.

Court Notes

LeRoy McDaniels was sentenced to six months in the county jail yesterday in superior court on a charge of petty theft. He had changed his plea from not guilty to guilty.

Emily S. Pyle, administratrix of the will of the late J. F. Spotts, brought suit against F. F. Thorp and Anna Thorp today, seeking judgment for $745.91, alleged to be due on a promissory note for $1000. The complaint said that the note had been secured by a trust deed on Santa Ana property, that the plaintiff had caused a trustee's sale, but that $745.91 remained due on the note after the net proceeds of the sale had been credited.

Seeking judgment for $1893.33 alleged to be due for room, board and nursing services, supplied for the late Lilla A. Camfield, Bernice E. Moore today brought suit against H. Z. Adams, executor of the will of the deceased. Only $350 of the alleged debt has been paid, leaving $1893.33 due and unpaid, the complaint said.

Albert Hoffman pleaded guilty to a charge of non-support when he was arraigned in superior court today. Sentence will be pronounced at 9:30 a. m., next Monday.

Information charging Jim Schofield with a statutory offense was filed in superior court today. The case was continued to next Friday, when it is understood a demurrer to the information will be filed.

Information charging W. L. Reese with non-support was filed in superior court today. Raymond Thompson was appointed to represent the defendant. The case was continued to 1:30 p. m. Reese said he had used the name Walter Lee in addition to the name under which the information was filed.

In a case appealed from the Santa Ana justice court by the plantiff, E. C. McKinstry today asked judgment for $299 from George W. Preston and Ed Cripe. According to the complaint, Cripe parked a truck belonging to Preston on the highway, three miles west of Garden Grove, in such a way that the plaintiff's car collided with it.

Minnie I. Tucker today brought suit for divorce against Samuel M. Tucker. The complaint alleged that Tucker had associated with another woman, that he had whipped his wife, that he had failed to provide for her and that he had deserted her. They were married in 1908 and separated in 1928, the complaint stated.

DRIVER ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Guy A. Dunham, 34, of 244 East Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton was arrested by Fullerton police last night on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

He was turned over to Deputy Sheriffs Jemison and Ryan, who brought him to the county jail.

Dunham was on parole at the time he was arrested, according to officers, and a charge of violation of parole may be filed against him in addition to the liquor charge.

PLAINTIFF IS AWARDED $525 IN CITRUS DEAL

H. V. Carse was given judgment in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court for $525 in a case directed against M. Luther, in which the plaintiff asserted that Luther had refused to carry out an agreement for the sale to Carse of 15,000 seedling orange plants at $25 per thousand.

Luther alleged in his answer that he had given notice to Carse that he believed the latter should accept the trees before April 15. The answer said that Carse had defaulted under the agreement of purchase.

Carse, on the other hand, claimed to have demanded delivery of the trees on April 14, asserting that Luther had refused to deliver them. Carse had asked $900 in damages and $150 which he alleged he had paid to Luther when the agreement was made, but which he said Luther had refused to return to him.

G. K. Scovel appeared for the plaintiff and H. I. Dearing for the defendant.

LAW ALLOWING VOTE IN EFFECT ON AUGUST 15

First steps in what may prove to be the final stage of the movement in the Newport harbor district for separation from the Santa Ana high school district and formation of a new secondary school district there will be taken immediately after August 15, it was learned today.

The bill which passed the last legislature, making it possible for the voters to express themselves on the matter, will go into effect on August 15 and petitions seeking an election will be placed in circulation immediately following that date, according to LeRoy Anderson, Costa Mesa attorney, who has been active in legal phases of the movement.

Anderson said he believed there was no doubt but that sufficient signatures would be forthcoming and that a majority of heads of families would affix their names to the documents. He also was of the opinion that an election, if called, would reflect a general opinion in favor of establishing a new high school district in the coast area.

The petitions will be presented to R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, when completed. Upon verification of the names and the sufficiency of the petitions by Mitchell, the law provides for the calling of an election on the question of separation.

The first step following this election, if it brings about the separation of the two districts, would be the selection of a board of trustees for the new district. It would be logical, Anderson pointed out today, if each of the several regions in the proposed district were represented on the board, which would be composed of five members.

After formation of the board of trustees this body would recommend the amount of bonds necessary for launching the district and construction of the new high school, Anderson said.

RECOVER BODY OF DROWNING VICTIM

The body of James W. Moore, 20, of Perris, who was drowned off Newport Beach last Sunday, was recovered at West Newport, at 7:45 this morning.

The body was brought to the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors, in Santa Ana, and was scheduled to be taken to Perris today for burial.

LAW ALLOWING VOTE IN EFFECT ON AUGUST 15

First steps in what may prove to be the final stage of the movement in the Newport harbor district for separation from the Santa Ana high school district and formation of a new secondary school district there will be taken immediately after August 15, it was learned today.

The bill which passed the last legislature, making it possible for the voters to express themselves on the matter, will go into effect on August 15 and petitions seeking an election will be placed in circulation immediately following that date, according to LeRoy Anderson, Costa Mesa attorney, who has been active in legal phases of the movement.

Anderson said he believed there was no doubt but that sufficient signatures would be forthcoming and that a majority of heads of families would affix their names to the documents. He also was of the opinion that an election, if called, would reflect a general opinion in favor of establishing a new high school district in the coast area.

The petitions will be presented to R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, when completed. Upon verification of the names and the sufficiency of the petitions by Mitchell, the law provides for the calling of an election on the question of separation.

The first step following this election, if it brings about the separation of the two districts, would be the selection of a board of trustees for the new district. It would be logical, Anderson pointed out today, if each of the several regions in the proposed district were represented on the board, which would be composed of five members.

After formation of the board of trustees this body would recommend the amount of bonds necessary for launching the district and construction of the new high school, Anderson said.

RECOVER BODY OF DROWNING VICTIM

The body of James W. Moore, 20, of Perris, who was drowned off Newport Beach last Sunday, was recovered at West Newport, at 7:45 this morning.

The body was brought to the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors, in Santa Ana, and was scheduled to be taken to Perris today for burial.

Local Briefs

Members of the Alhambra Four Square church, accompanied by their pastor, Clair Britton, son of Mrs. Anna Britton, former pastor of the Santa Ana church, will visit the local church tonight. The service, which will be open to the public, will start at 7:30 o'clock and will include special musical numbers.

HANSEN

HANSEN, July 26—Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Treffern spent several days attending the camp meeting of the Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints at Laguna Beach.

H. H. Hammond, his son, Robert Hammond, of Anaheim, and his daughter and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Scott of Clifton, Kan., drove to Corona Monday and later to Escondido, calling on relatives and friends at both places. Dr. and Mrs. Scott will start for their home in Kansas this week.

Mrs. W. H. Morgan attended the Alamitos Friends church Sunday. She is much improved in health.

George Trigg is away on a vacation spending a couple of weeks near Escondido.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Lukins and three sons, John, Loren and Howard, drove to Sawtelle, where they were joined by Mrs. Lukins' mother, Mrs. J. H. Burgener, then drove to Owensmouth. They brought Mrs. Bergener home with them for a few days visit. Loren Lukins is spending the week with boy scouts of Anaheim at Camp Ro-Ki-Li.

Mr. McInnis has added two new chicken houses to his poultry plant which gives him room f or 250 chickens. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Guy McClure and children, of Pomona, visited Mr. and Mrs. McInnis.

YORBA LINDA

YORBA LINDA, July 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dyckman, who are spending their vacation in Long Beach, had as week end guests, Mr. ad Mrs. M. J. Harmon, of Rose Drive.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Collins were Mrs. Collins' sisters, Mrs. C. W. Fellows and Mrs. Elizabeth Stocking, of Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Walfier and son, Murray, spent the week end in their Barton Flats cabin, where they had as guests Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Shook, of Pasadena. Mr. and Mrs. Shook are remaining there for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hurley and son, Joseph, who left last week for am onth's vacation in the east, will visit in Cincinnati and New York City.

M. J. Hammon received word Tuesday morning of the death of his father, Joseph P. Hammon, of Ft. Recovery, Ohio.

Among those who spent the week end at Barton Flats were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paine, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Kinsman and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Swain, the latter occupying the Georgia Thing cabin.

EXHIBIT GIANT WHALE TUESDAY IN BEACH CITY

Tuesday and continuing for one week Orange county will get a preview of a "groomed" whale, now on continental tour aboard its own private "pullman" at Newport Beach, where it will be displayed at the Southern Pacific depot and Twenty-third street.

To give an idea of its size, 20 men can stand in its mouth. It required over 5200 gallons of embalming fluid, a crew of 10 morticians working night and day for two weeks to prepare it and it fills a specially constructed steel railroad car upon which it is transported.

This "carload of whale" presented a problem for the railroad expects. Traffic men were baffled, according to Bill Barie, part owner of this exhibit. There being no tariff regulations governing such a shipment, it was necessary that a special permit be granted at Washington and now it moves over the various railroads at a new and specific tariff classification.

This exhibit will cover the mid-west fairs from Des Moines, Iowa, to Dallas, Texas, and then be taken to Florida and up the Atlantic coast into New York City.

JAIL INMATES DEFENDANTS IN DIVORCE SUITS

Two men who have received jail sentences in superior court here during recent months were made defendants in divorce suits today.

J. B. Talley, serving one year in the county jail, following his plea of guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, and Howard Pember, who is in San Quentin as a result of his plea of guilty to a forgery charge, were the men named in the complaints.

Amy Talley charged her husband with cruelty and also referred to the fact that he had pleaded guilty to the delinquency charge. The complaint recalled that he had asked for probation, which was granted on February 8, on condition that he spend one year in the county jail. Mrs. Talley asked to be given her maiden name, Amy Wilson. The couple married in 1923 and separated February 15, 1929, the complaint stated.

The complaint against Pember, filed by Laura Pember, was based on the fact that he had pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery. He at first was given probation, but later the probation order was revoked and he was sent to San Quentin, the complaint said. They were married in 1927 and separated January 25, 1929, according to the complaint.

Car Stolen, But He Got Delivery Box Back Anyway

What was left of an automobile owned by Dr. C. E. Price, 1001 Hickory street, reported stolen here last Wednesday night, was located at the head of Newport bay, near the San Joaquin Gun club today.

"What was left" constituted the engine and the delivery box. All other parts of the car, including most of the body, had been carried away. The tires, the windshield, the radiator, the wheels and virtually every part of the car had been carted away.

Dr. Price was notified of the "find" and gave a man the engine to return the delivery box to Santa Ana.

BAPTIST YOUNG FOLK TO MEET WITH ADULTS

A booster service is to be the feature of the last joint meeting of the young people and the regular congregation in the First Baptist church, Sunday night, according to the Rev. Harry Evan Owings, pastor. The joint meetings have been special services during the month of July and have resulted in a considerable attendance increase over this month last year.

In a statement this morning the Rev. Mr. Owings declared that it is the aim of the church to send 25 young people to the summer assembly at Pacific Palisades. The service this week is largely for the purpose of introducing to the parents the various phases of camp life. The minister revealed the information that already a sum of from $175 to $200 has been obtained for the purpose of sending several Baptist young folk to the school of leadership training. Friends and members of the congregation are urged to attend the service Sunday night.

The program will include the following features:

Organ recital; song service with the hymns, "I Love to Tell the Story" and "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life;" Scripture from the second chapter of Timothy; minister's evening prayer; worship in giving; offertory; special music, by the Temple Baptist trio, Los Angeles; addresses, "Palisades: A Church Investment," the Rev. Harry Evan Owings; "The Offer of Palisades Assembly," John Engeman, assistant camp manager; closing hymn, "Saviour Again to Thy Dear Name;" benediction and choir response; organ postlude.

NO CANDIDATES GIVEN BACKING BY AUXILIARY

More than 200 women, members of the American Legion auxiliary of the eleventh California district, met in caucus here yesterday in the Legion home and outlined plans for the district's part in the state convention, to be held in San Diego on August 19.

No indorsement was given any candidate for office.

The district went on record as objecting to the proposed constitution and by-laws under consideration. A motion that the district go on record as favoring redistricting the state to conform with the American Legion failed to carry. Many of the women present stated they wanted further discussion pertaining to the question before voting on it.

Mrs. Margaret Kaeding, Glendale, was introduced as a candidate for president; Mrs. Gertrude Bailey was introduced as a candidate for second vice president, and Mrs. Bernice Keyes, San Diego, Mrs. Hattie Polcene, Riverside, and Mrs. Nora McCalla, Santa Ana, were announced as candidates for delegate-at-large to the national convention. Mrs. Bailey resides in La Mesa and is the district's committeewoman.

The meeting, which opened yesterday noon with a luncheon, was in charge of Mrs. Bailey, who introduced the following prominent members of the organization present:

Mrs. Fay Minnix, first vice president of the Orange county council; Mrs. Sue Miller, Holtville, president of Imperial county council; Mrs. Francis Eddy, Elsinore, president Riverside - San Bernardino county council; Mrs. Rose Park, La Mesa, president San Diego county council.

The following committee chairmen also were introduced:

Mrs. Rowena Fultz, Santa Ana, child welfare; Mrs. Nora McCalla, Santa Ana, hospital and rehabilitation; Mrs. Alta Wilke, Brawley, community service; Mrs. Marjorie Danielson, Redlands, co-operative sales.

Other notables introduced were Mrs. Anne Chapline, Orange, past department president; Mrs. Bernice Keyes, San Diego, third vice president; Mrs. Margaret Kaeding, Glendale, first vice president.

Announcement was made that there had been five new units organized in the district during the last year, in El Cajon, Oceanside, Buena Park, Norco and Barstow.

Mrs. Ethel Marsh, of Upland, alternate committeewoman, who acted as secretary of the meeting, yesterday, reported that 29 units of the 42 in the district were represented at the meeting.

NONE INJURED WHEN THREE CARS CRASH

Three cars collided at Edinger and Main streets yesterday afternoon, but the occupants escaped without injury, according to a report filed at the police station by Harry Fink, of the police department, who was called to the scene. The cars were driven by Charles Lieberger, of Newport Beach; Mrs. P. E. Coleman, of 301 Fruit street, Santa Ana, and T. O. McIntyre, of Huntington Beach. All three cars were slightly damaged.

PROGRAM BY BAND ATTRACTS CAPACITY AUDIENCE; CADMAN TO PARTICIPATE NEXT WEEK

BY RUTH ANDREWS

Ever-increasing crowds continue to enjoy the summer concert series being presented weekly in Birch Park by the Santa Ana Municipal band, under the direction fo D. C. Cianfoni. Last night's program offered customary contrast and variety, combining both popular and operatic favorites.

Effervescent with personality, definitely-assented rhythms re-echoing in spirited septette, Director Cianfoni's stirring "Newport Harbor" march, composed only last winter, evoked a wave of warm appreciation.

Equally enjoyed was artistic handling of Flotow's vital overture, "Stradellento" introductory chords impressively subdued. Contrasting gradations of tempo and shading stressing work of reeds finally modulated into an augmented crescendo, rising through chromatics to an ardently sustained climax.

Rapid moodal transitions running the gamut of varied emotional expression compelled attention in the vivid selection from Strauss' loved "Chocolate soldier." Gracefully poetic themes interwoven with provocative moods blent in a multi-colored tonal tapestry, bringing vigorous response.

Taylor Accorded Welcome

Reginald Taylor, one of Orange county's favorite baritones, was accorded warm welcome by the large audience in his role as soloist of the evening. Effectively accompanied by the band, Taylor offered Dix' impressive "Trumpeter," evidencing excellent control and mellow tone, also pleasing facility of mood, passing quickly from challenge to solemnity, then back to a forceful climax. Sweet sentiment of Herbert's "Gypsy Love Song" offered familiar lyric contract sung with tenderness necessitating repetition, Taylor's popularity evidenced by warm appreciation.

Much enjoyed was Verdi's "Rigoletto," one of the best loved numbers from operatic repertoire. This skillfully arranged succession of favorite themes was read by the band with vigor and exquisitely varied detail. Opening buoyantly, the score led through an impressive instrumental crescendo to delicate grace of the "Caro Nome" aria, coloratura passage work taken by solo clarinet. The taunting "Donna e Mobile" was followed by impassioned melody of the familiar "Quartet," entire instrumentation rising to vivid climax, mellow warmth of Director Cianfoni's own trombone ever outstanding.

Contrast of Mood

The Intermezzo "Pas des Fleurs" (Moses) sparkled with well emphasized wood-winds and flute, interwoven with appealing melody. Direct contrast of mood was struck in rollicking humor of the novelty characteristic "The Jolly Musicians" (Muscat), instrumentation most realistic in expression of gaiety, accompanied by hearty laughter of musicians. Strenuous applause necessitated repetition of the vivid presto finale.

Announcing that the present concert series would be concluded the latter part of August to avoid conflict with the opening of the Orange County fair, Harry Hanson, president and manager of the band, also reminded music lovers of the big "Cadman" program scheduled for presentation by the band in Birch park next Thursday night.

Cadman, noted composer, will be present in person and will accompany Flora Myers Engel, prominent Los Angeles soprano, in a group of his own songs, also an operatic aria. Numerous compositions by Cadman, to be programmed by the band, together with repetition of the popular "Desert Song," in response to numerous requests, will no doubt lure a record throng.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 26.—"Don't go in for this just-as-young-as-I-used-to-be performance," those of middle-age and over are warned by Dr. Theodore B. Appel, head of the state health department.

"The business man who is fat and 40 or at least 40 suddenly develops a logical enthusiasm for tennis, golf and baseball at this outdoor season," he said. "And while such a thing as permitting one's affection for a sport to get the better of one's judgment—then something happens.

"The business of imagining at 40 or 50 years of age that one is just as young as ever is a mighty poor proposition if one deliberately steps out to prove it after a winter's physical lassitude, by way of suddenly over-exercising or indulging violently in outdoor sports.

"Sunshine and exercise are among the cardinal necessities for all. But sudden exertion, or even protracted exertion that is not so sudden can not be indulged in safely by the middle-aged who are not accustomed to it. It is not even good for the college man. This fact is recognized by all trainers who regulate and step-up athletic activities.

Edison Office Sought In Brea

BREA, July 26.—The chamber of commerce met at the Olson and Dyer cafe Wednesday for the regular weekly meeting, Charles C. Kinsler acting as chairman. It was voted to send Angus McAulay a letter of appreciation for the use of the parlor here as an office. A basket of flowers will be sent him expressing the happiness of the chamber at his recovery from his recent illness and also an honorary membership card.

A motion was made and carried that a committee be appointed to call on the Southern California Edison company to see if the company would establish an office here. The gas company has selected a site for an office on Pomona avenue.

Nursery Planned In Westminster

WESTMINSTER, July 26.—A hothouse for flowers is being erected on the Fred Basse ranch west of Westminster, Mr. Basse and his sons planning to do an extensive nursery business.

Mr. Basse purchased the glass and lath houses of the city of Long Beach nursery. The work is being done by Albert Knox.

The glass house will be 30 by 60 feet. It is expected that all will be in readiness for the planting of the first beds by the first of September. In time trees, shrubs and all usual nursery stock will be put in by Mr. Basse who has been specializing in the raising of gladiolusus for several years past.

PROGRAM BY BAND ATTRACTS CAPACITY AUDIENCE; CADMAN TO PARTICIPATE NEXT WEEK

BY RUTH ANDREWS

Ever-increasing crowds continue to enjoy the summer concert series being presented weekly in Birch Park by the Santa Ana Municipal band, under the direction fo D. C. Cianfoni. Last night's program offered customary contrast and variety, combining both popular and operatic favorites.

Effervescent with personality, definitely-assented rhythms re-echoing in spirited septette, Director Cianfoni's stirring "Newport Harbor" march, composed only last winter, evoked a wave of warm appreciation.

Equally enjoyed was artistic handling of Flotow's vital overture, "Stradellento" introductory chords impressively subdued. Contrasting gradations of tempo and shading stressing work of reeds finally modulated into an augmented crescendo, rising through chromatics to an ardently sustained climax.

Rapid moodal transitions running the gamut of varied emotional expression compelled attention in the vivid selection from Strauss' loved "Chocolate soldier." Gracefully poetic themes interwoven with provocative moods blent in a multi-colored tonal tapestry, bringing vigorous response.

Taylor Accorded Welcome

Reginald Taylor, one of Orange county's favorite baritones, was accorded warm welcome by the large audience in his role as soloist of the evening. Effectively accompanied by the band, Taylor offered Dix' impressive "Trumpeter," evidencing excellent control and mellow tone, also pleasing facility of mood, passing quickly from challenge to solemnity, then back to a forceful climax. Sweet sentiment of Herbert's "Gypsy Love Song" offered familiar lyric contract sung with tenderness necessitating repetition, Taylor's popularity evidenced by warm appreciation.

Much enjoyed was Verdi's "Rigoletto," one of the best loved numbers from operatic repertoire. This skillfully arranged succession of favorite themes was read by the band with vigor and exquisitely varied detail. Opening buoyantly, the score led through an impressive instrumental crescendo to delicate grace of the "Caro Nome" aria, coloratura passage work taken by solo clarinet. HORACE HEAD MAKES REPLY TO STATEMENTS OF STUART LUCAS AND EX-SUPERVISOR FINLEY

The Water Companies

What are these wicked water companies that Mr. Lucas and some others accuse of being opposed to the best interests of Orange county? They are mutual, non-profit corporations whose stockholders are the thousands of orchardists and farmers using water for irrigation in the vicinities of Tustin, Santa Ana, Orange, Olive, part of Villa Park, Placentia, Fullerton, Orangethorpe and Anaheim. Abuse of the water companies is abuse of the inhabitants of all that vast, highly improved and wonderfully productive region. During the summer months those companies pump more water than they derive from surface flow of the river. The interests of their stockholders in flood control and water conservation matters are identical with those of other inhabitants of the county. In fact for many years and at burdensome expense to their stockholders, these two water companies have fought for the preservation of the water rights of nearly all of Orange county, by expensive litigation to prevent unlawful appropriation of water above us and by purchasing and holding under burdensome taxation several thousand acres of water-bearing land near Prado in Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

The Prado Land

It would be a great relief to the water companies if the Flood Control District could take over that Prado land and relieve them of an investment of many thousands of dollars and a heavy annual tax burden; and it would be a very fair thing to do, for nearly all of the water supply of the greater part of Orange county comes through and from that land. It would be very much to the advantage of the water companies if the proposed dam be located at Prado, provided the dam would not cut off part of our water supply. That is the main question involved in that location, and it affects not merely the two water companies but most of the county.

Mr. Browning's Plan

The fairest and most sensible communication on the subject since the bond election was that of Mr. Browning, in which he fairly stated at least part of his objections to the lower site and outlined his plan for a dam at Prado which would not retard the underground flow. Any structure which would retard that flow would surely enlarge the underground basin, especially after a heavy capping of silt is deposited over it by repeated floods. An enlargement of that basin would add to the supply for Norco, Norconian Lake, and other upper users, and would doubtless supply water in the Chino basin for the development of thousands of acres of dry land which has been prevented from taking Santa Ana river water only by a court judgment obtained by the water companies. I am not convinced that placing of openings through a dam connected with bedrock would permit the free percolation of that underground water, no unobstructed and so vital to Orange county.

Mr. Browning's suggestion of a dam at Prado not connected with bedrock appeals to me more, provided it would be safe. In that connection it must be remembered that we are dealing with a stream which at rare intervals becomes a raging torrent, not merely for a few days, but for weeks and even months. A failure of the dam at such a time of heaviest stress must result in awful calamity and destruction. And with such a dam, there still remains the question of what effect the resulting capping of silt would have. There is rising water and surface flow at the vicinity of Prado only because the soil to bedrock is so saturated with percolating water that some of the water must rise and flow on the surface. Fine, closely packed silt of sufficient thickness is almost impervious. We cannot use the early flow of storm water on the spreading basins for conservation of water because it carries so much silt that it would soon render the spreading grounds impervious to water. A thick coat of silt over the basin above a surface dam at Prado would surely offer real obstruction to the rising of water to the surface; it could not percolate faster underground, and therefore must back up and enlarge the underground basin, with the result of loss of water to Orange county as before stated.

Evaporation

Mr. Browning's statements about loss by evaporation are true, though I think our water measurements indicate it is not nearly so great as he believes. He also makes the mistake of taking a slap at those wicked water companies. The standing or stagnant water he sees near Prado is not on land owned by the companies, and they have been trying to find a remedy for that condition, but are unable to do so without buying the lands at exhorbitant prices. The directors have been considering for years the tiling of the Prado lands to prevent loss by evaporation, but the cost of that has been considered beyond the means of the companies.

Many Questions

The foregoing, Mr. Lucas, indicates some of the problems, considered in connection with locating a dam at Prado. There were many others also affecting the whole district and not particularly the water companies; such as, the right of the district by condemnation proceedings to take and relocate and rebuild many miles of highways and many bridges in other counties, and the resulting cost, the delay and the cost in acquiring eight to nine thousand acres of land in other counties, largely by condemnation; the probability of that land subjected to a heavy tax burden, either under present law or an amendment to the law. These and many other problems were freely and openly discussed in many meetings of the supervisors and the advisory committee (only two of whom were directors of the water companies) and by the engineers, including the Orange County engineers association as well as the three outside expert engineers. They were all very properly considered in determining the dam location. Colonel S. H. Finley was present at many of those meetings, and I never heard of his saying anything at those meetings to indicate his belief that the Prado site should be selected. In his report Mr. Bailey was submitting a plan for flood control and not writing a brief as between two dam sites.

Honest Reports

That report is the honest report of a capable engineer, approved by other capable and disinterested engineers. There was no fraud or undue influence conected with it. "To err is human," Mr. Lucas, and it is really unkind of you and Colonel Finley to charge to crokedness and dishonesty the opinions of those who have faith in the Bailey plan, even though you think they are mistaken.

Lippencot Report

There is constant mention of that Lippencott report on which the supervisors wasted $3600 of county money. It is merely a compilation of statistics and facts most of which were well known before it was made. It does not submit any flood control plan which could be the basis of a bond election under the Flood Control District Act. Mr. Lippencott merely pointed out the availability of the Prado site for a dam, as others had done before. The report was of no practical value to Orange County, and the money paid for it would have been better invested in the improvement of Newport Harbor along with the half million dollars of county money already invested in that improvement.

The Vote

There is much harping on the theme "The People Have Spoken." True, and what have they said? Some said "No" because they were convinced the wrong site was chosen, some because they will oppose any bonds unless Newport Harbor is taken care of, some because their locality is not affected as to water supply or floods by the proposed plan (it was a mistake to include La Habra in the district), some because they do not want their land in Santa Ana canyon taken by the district, and far the greater number because they prefer to risk flood damage and water shortage rather than increase their taxes. Thus have the people spoken, and most of those who voted "No" would vote the same way on bonds for a dam at Prado.

Editor Burke

Comes now Editor Burke of the Santa Ana Register and in a long article explaining his "Now Colonel" letter, behold he makes me the goat of the whole proceeding! According to Mr. Burke, I am the fellow who would not let Mr. Bailey locate the dam at Prado and made him select the lower site; and I did it because that was to the interest of those bad water companies. He even accuses me of serving two masters. Those are harsh words, brother, but utterly false. There were no two masters; there was no conflict of interest between the water companies and the district as a whole; in fact, as before shown, the interest of the water companies is the same as that of other users of water from the Santa Ana river basin. Neither the directors nor the stockholders of the Anaheim Union Water company, for which I am attorney, ever took any stand of-no advice concerning the location of the proposed dam.

The Water Companies

What are these wicked water companies that Mr. Lucas and some others accuse of being opposed to the best interests of Orange county? They are mutual, non-profit corporations whose stockholders are the thousands of orchardists and farmers using water for irrigation in the vicinities of Tustin, Santa Ana, Orange, Olive, part of Villa Park, Placentia, Fullerton, Orangethorpe and Anaheim. Abuse of the water companies is abuse of the inhabitants of all that vast, highly improved and wonderfully productive region. The Prado Land

It would be a great relief to the water companies if the Flood Control District could take over that Prado land and relieve them of an investment of many thousands of dollars and a heavy annual tax burden; and it would be a very fair thing to do, for nearly all of the water supply of the greater part of Orange county comes through and from that land. That is the main question involved in that location, and it affects not merely the two water companies but most of the county.

Mr. Browning's Plan

The fairest and most sensible communication on the subject since the bond election was that of Mr. Browning, in which he fairly stated at least part of his objections to the lower site and outlined his plan for a dam at Prado which would not retard the underground flow. Any structure which would retard that flow would surely enlarge the underground basin, especially after a heavy capping of silt is deposited over it by repeated floods. An enlargement of that basin would add to the supply for Norco, Norconian Lake, and other upper users, and would doubtless supply water in the Chino basin for the development of thousands of acres of dry land which has been prevented from taking Santa Ana river water only by a court judgment obtained by the water companies. I am not convinced that placing of openings through a dam connected with bedrock would permit the free percolation of that underground water, no unobstructed and so vital to Orange county.

Mr. Browning's suggestion of a dam at Prado not connected with bedrock appeals to me more, provided it would be safe. In that connection it must be remembered that we are dealing with a stream which at rare intervals becomes a raging torrent, not merely for a few days, but for weeks and even months. A failure of the dam at such a time of heaviest stress must result in awful calamity and destruction. And with such a dam, there still remains the question of what effect the resulting capping of silt would have. There is rising water and surface flow at the vicinity of Prado only because the soil to bedrock is so saturated with percolating water that some of the water must rise and flow on the surface. Fine, closely packed silt of sufficient thickness is almost impervious. We cannot use the early flow of storm water on the spreading basins for conservation of water because it carries so much silt that it would soon render the spreading grounds impervious to water. A thick coat of silt over the basin above a surface dam at Prado would surely offer real obstruction to the rising of water to the surface; it could not percolate faster underground, and therefore must back up and enlarge the underground basin, with the result of loss of water to Orange county as before stated.

Evaporation

Mr. Browning's statements about loss by evaporation are true, though I think our water measurements indicate it is not nearly so great as he believes. He also makes the mistake of taking a slap at those wicked water companies. The standing or stagnant water he sees near Prado is not on land owned by the companies, and they have been trying to find a remedy for that condition, but are unable to do so without buying the lands at exhorbitant prices. The directors have been considering for years the tiling of the Prado lands to prevent loss by evaporation, but the cost of that has been considered beyond the means of the companies.

Many Questions

The foregoing, Mr. Lucas, indicates some of the problems, considered in connection with locating a dam at Prado. There were many others also affecting the whole district and not particularly the water companies; such as, the right of the district by condemnation proceedings to take and relocate and rebuild many miles of highways and many bridges in other counties, and the resulting cost, the delay and the cost in acquiring eight to nine thousand acres of land in other counties, largely by condemnation; the probability of that land subjected to a heavy tax burden, either under present law or an amendment to the law. These and many other problems were freely and openly discussed in many meetings of the supervisors and the advisory committee (only two of whom were directors of the water companies) and by the engineers, including the Orange County engineers association as well as the three outside expert engineers. They were all very properly considered in determining the dam location. Colonel S. H. Finley was present at many of those meetings, and I never heard of his saying anything at those meetings to indicate his belief that the Prado site should be selected. In his report Mr. Bailey was submitting a plan for flood control and not writing a brief as between two dam sites.

Honest Reports

That report is the honest report of a capable engineer, approved by other capable and disinterested engineers. There was no fraud or undue influence conected with it. "To err is human," Mr. Lucas, and it is really unkind of you and Colonel Finley to charge to crokedness and dishonesty the opinions of those who have faith in the Bailey plan, even though you think they are mistaken.

Lippencot Report

There is constant mention of that Lippencott report on which the supervisors wasted $3600 of county money. It is merely a compilation of statistics and facts most of which were well known before it was made. It does not submit any flood control plan which could be the basis of a bond election under the Flood Control District Act. Mr. Lippencott merely pointed out the availability of the Prado site for a dam, as others had done before. The report was of no practical value to Orange County, and the money paid for it would have been better invested in the improvement of Newport Harbor along with the half million dollars of county money already invested in that improvement.

The Vote

There is much harping on the theme "The People Have Spoken." True, and what have they said? Some said "No" because they were convinced the wrong site was chosen, some because they will oppose any bonds unless Newport Harbor is taken care of, some because their locality is not affected as to water supply or floods by the proposed plan (it was a mistake to include La Habra in the district), some because they do not want their land in Santa Ana canyon taken by the district, and far the greater number because they prefer to risk flood damage and water shortage rather than increase their taxes. Thus have the people spoken, and most of those who voted "No" would vote the same way on bonds for a dam at Prado.

Editor Burke

Comes now Editor Burke of the Santa Ana Register and in a long article explaining his "Now Colonel" letter, behold he makes me the goat of the whole proceeding! According to Mr. Burke, I am the fellow who would not let Mr. Bailey locate the dam at Prado and made him select the lower site; and I did it because that was to the interest of those bad water companies. He even accuses me of serving two masters. Those are harsh words, brother, but utterly false. There were no two masters; there was no conflict of interest between the water companies and the district as a whole; in fact, as before shown, the interest of the water companies is the same as that of other users of water from the Santa Ana river basin. Neither the directors nor the stockholders of the Anaheim Union Water company, for which I am attorney, ever took any stand of-

CITY COUNCIL VOTES CHANGE IN MEETINGS

ANAHEIM, July 26.—The first reading of an ordinance setting the meetings of the city council for the second and fourth Tuesdays took place at the regular session of that body last night. The meetings have been held the second and fourth Thursdays of the month.

Bids for chlorine were referred to the joint outfall sewer board.

All bids for fire hydrants were rejected and following a motion made by Councilman Layton, a decision was reached to buy the hydrants in the open market.

A recommendation was received from the planning commission advising the council to take steps toward the paving of Broadway and Vermont. The matter was taken under advisement.

The city clerk was instructed to advertise for additional cast iron pipe and fittings to be used in replacing old pipe in the extension of the city mains.

TUSTIN RESIDENT BUYS L. B. PAINTING

LAGUNA BEACH, July 26—One of the biggest and most expensive of the gift pictures of the Laguna Beach Art association was sold this week at the gallery by Mrs. Lucie B. Long, curator of the gallery, on the eve, almost, of the opening of the aniversary exhibit. The painting sold is by Frank Tenney Johnson, entitled "The Moonlit Trail," and was purchased for $650 by Sherman Stevens, of Tustin. Mr. Stevens, who is a well known art collector, has been giving particular attention to the art of Southern California and his collection possesses many works of California artists.

The anniversary exhibition will start on August first and on the same date the association will hold a reception to the general public in the evening. The aniversary exhibit is the principal one of the year and it is anticipated that a new high mark of excellence will be established.

Election of officers of the association is to be held on August 12. Miss Anna A. Hills has been president for two terms.

MARINE EXHIBITION ARRANGED AT BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, July 26—Pomona marine laboratory will make its exhibit of marine specimens taken during the summer's research work at the building on Coast boulevard near Broalway this evening, opening at 8 o'clock. Dr. W. A. Hilton will have charge.

Many interesting and unusual specimens will be shown which have been taken from the Laguna shoreline. Explanations will be made of the exhibits. The public is invited.

School Trustees Awards Contracts

WESTMINSTER, July 26.—The trustees of the Westminster school district met at the school this week for a business session. The matter of a sufficient water supply was taken up and arrangements made to pipe water from the Shafer well, which serves the McCoy tract adjoining the school grounds. Pipe lines will be laid and a meter installed at once.

A contract was given to Mr. Hilton, local contractor for the laying of 450 feet of sidewalk.

It was decided not to build a new separate auditorium or remodel the present one this year as was at first planned. It is said that a junior high school will be put in the local school next year and the present auditorium will be used for a general classroom for these classes and a new auditorium erected.

A new stucco garage of five-car capacity is to be built at once at the school and a strong wire fence is to encircle the school grounds.

RESERVATIONS POUR IN FOR ASSOCIATED CHAMBERS MEET

NEWPORT BEACH, July 26.—Reservations for the dinner of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at the Newport Harbor Yacht club the evening of July 30 are pouring into the local headquarters.

The unusual interest being evidenced in this meeting is believed caused by the fact that the committee on flood control and water conservation will be announced at this time.

According to newspaper reports, Lotus Loudon, the president, has made the statement that there is but one thing possible, and that is to go forward with the plan already submitted, so the method that he will pursue in appointing the committee has aroused considerable interest.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock and the delegates will be tendered a boat ride around the bay as the guests of the local chamber of commerce.

The boats will be ready at 5 p. m. at the clubhouse float.

After the dinner the Balboa Beach Amusement company will act as hosts and dancing may be enjoyed at the Rendezvous ball room in Balboa.

MESA CHURCH IN PLANS FOR SUNDAY EVENT

COSTA MESA, July 26.—A year ago next Sunday evening the Costa Mesa Community church held its first service in the new building. It was an evening service; hence the celebration of the anniversary will be at 7:30 o'clock. The congregation will assemble in the old church but the songs and thanksgivings will culminate in the new sanctuary.

The pastor, the Rev. Lyman R. Bayard, will speak on, "Enter Thou Into the Joy of Thy Lord." During the year the new church has become well known throughout this region for its beauty, its lofty tower, and its worshipful interior.

At the morning service the Lord's Supper will be administered.

Assemblyman And Chamber Head At Moffatt Luncheon

BREA, July 25.—H. M. Massey, president of the Brea Chamber of Commerce, and Assemblyman Ted Craig attended a luncheon given by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles Wednesday at which Admiral Moffatt and committee from Washington were guests. Moffatt is on the coast to inspect sites proposed for a dirigible site.

Beach Cottages Proving Popular

SUNSET BEACH, July 26. — Beach cottages here are increasing in popularity, according to J. H. Gleason, well known merchant of that city. Beach cottages at Sunset Beach are set right against the beating surf. At some cottages the breakfast nook is in front and within a dozen feet of where the water washes the sands.

WRITER TELLS ROTARIANS OF STATE SCENES

ORANGE, July 26.—Ernest McGaffey, head of the magazine bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary club at the American Legion clubhouse yesterday.

McGaffey spoke on the points of interest in Southern California, bringing out the fact that the interest attached to each community is varied. Some places are interesting because of the oil that is produced in the community, some from an agricultural standpoint and some for their scenic beauty, the speaker said.

The interesting places in the 13 counties included in the Auto club were described by McGaffey. The speaker writes for magazines all over the world on topics connected with the automobile. Wherever the automobile had penetrated, McGaffey said, there are magazines devoted to discussion of motor problems.

The speaker was a reporter on the staff of the Chicago Inter-Ocean and papers in Portland and Los Angeles at one time. Magazines for which he writes are published in China, England, Holland, France, Germany, Austria, Norway, Sweden, New Zealand and Mexico.

E. E. Campbell was the chairman of the day.

FIREMEN WILL BE TAKEN ON COUNTY TOURS

FULLERTON, July 26.—Opportunity of seeing the greater portion of Orange county will be afforded visiting firemen and friends at the California State Firemen's association convention to be held here August 7, 8 and 9 as the guests of the Orange County Firemen's association.

A number of sightseeing trips are included in the plans for entertainment and special trips for the women of the party are being arranged.

The first trip will be taken on the opening day following registration and will include Buena Park, Garden Grove and Huntington Beach, ending up at the Greek theater in Anaheim, where a program will be presented.

A trip to Laguna Beach to visit the art galleries is scheduled for the second day and a trip through the southern part of the county and a barbecue at Irvine park will end this excursion.

The third trip will pass through La Habra, Brea, Placentia, Orange and Santa Ana with lunch served at Birch park in Santa Ana. Following the lunch, the party will proceed to Newport Beach, where a ride on the bay will be enjoyed.

Team Utilized To Clean Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 25.—Huntington Beach believes it has the cleanest beach on the south coast. Mr. Underwood has been employed to patrol the beach every morning with a team and remove all rubbish. Sea weed and drift wood are collected on mats and the wagon driven along the beach to load the mats, which are carted to the dump ground. Underwood also has a beach sand rake which he uses to search for lost articles.

The loss of any article reported to the life guard, Gene Belche, is in turn reported to Underwood, who makes a search. This week a beach visitor reported the loss of a $100 set of false teeth. Underwood combed a section of the beach and found a discarded ladies' bathing suit and a faded wig, but a certain tourist went home toothless.

Resume Services In Midway City Church July 28

MIDWAY CITY, July 26—Church services will be resumed next Sunday at 7:30 o'clock at the Midway City Nazarene church. They have been omitted the past two Sundays to give the pastor and congregation an opportunity to attend the Nazarene conference in Santa Ana.

A young people's society is to be organized here one week from Sunday.

ANAHEIM C. C. ELECTION DUE SEPTEMBER 1

ANAHEIM, July 26.—Election of officers for the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce was postponed until the first of September, at a meeting held for that purpose, yesterday. The absence of a quorum prevented the transaction of the business planned.

George W. Reid, secretary of the Anaheim body, was granted a leave of absence of two weeks, which he will spend in the high Sierras. Mrs. Ruth Reid, assistant secretary, will have charge of the office while he is gone.

The matter of entering an exhibit at the Orange county fair was discussed and was referred to the finance committee.

YOUNG PIANIST OF SANTA ANA PLEASES CROWD

ANAHEIM, July 26.—Never did Cinderella step into her pumpkin coach in the midst of more beautiful surroundings than did the pretty marionette who represented this well-known character from fairyland at the Anaheim city park last night, when 5000 persons gathered to witness the Kegg-Goldsmith show from Hollywood.

The Greek theater was packed to the outer walls and hundreds of persons left the park when they were unable to secure places to see the performers. At the present time the interior of the theater is banked with beds of brilliant petunias and other summer flowers, forming walls of floral beauty.

The three little Swiss yodelers, Reynard, Ruth and Betty Fraunfelder, presented two groups of songs.

Everard Stovall, Santa Ana boy pianist, played Etudes No. 8 and No. 10 from the 10th and 25th opus collections of Chopin. Young Stovall has won high honors in his playing and he was enthusiastically received.

"O Sol Mio" and "Poet and Peasant" were piano accordion numbers played by Frank Close, of Los Angeles.

How good vegetables can be

if cooked in this appetizing way!

MANY men and many children seem to dislike certain vegetable dishes that everyone knows they should eat. That is why the recent work of a group of nationally known women cooking experts is so important. These women working on the problem of taste rediscovered an old secret—add a dash of sugar to vegetables while they are cooking. It makes more difference to the taste than anyone who has not tried it would believe.

No, it does not make the vegetables taste sweet. That must be clear. The little sugar acts as a developer of the tasteful flavors—of the delicious flavors already in the foods. It also makes the vegetables seem fresher and it adds to their color. Experiment now with a little sugar in cooking every kind of vegetable and you will be amazed at the difference it makes.

A great variety of appetizing foods—that is the daily need of children and adults. Remember to use a little sugar as a flavorer for cereals, fruits, vegetables and milk desserts. Sugar, if used intelligently, can help everyone to eat and to enjoy variety. Think of sugar as a seasoning. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

CITY COUNCIL VOTES CHANGE IN MEETINGS

ANAHEIM, July 26.—The first reading of an ordinance setting the meetings of the city council for the second and fourth Tuesdays took place at the regular session of that body last night. The meetings have been held the second and fourth Thursdays of the month.

Bids for chlorine were referred to the joint outfall sewer board.

All bids for fire hydrants were rejected and following a motion made by Councilman Layton, a decision was reached to buy the hydrants in the open market.

A recommendation was received from the planning commission advising the council to take steps toward the paving of Broadway and Vermont. The matter was taken under advisement.

The city clerk was instructed to advertise for additional cast iron pipe and fittings to be used in replacing old pipe in the extension of the city mains.

TUSTIN RESIDENT BUYS L. B. PAINTING

LAGUNA BEACH, July 26—One of the biggest and most expensive of the gift pictures of the Laguna Beach Art association was sold this week at the gallery by Mrs. Lucie B. Long, curator of the gallery, on the eve, almost, of the opening of the aniversary exhibit. The painting sold is by Frank Tenney Johnson, entitled "The Moonlit Trail," and was purchased for $650 by Sherman Stevens, of Tustin. Mr. Stevens, who is a well known art collector, has been giving particular attention to the art of Southern California and his collection possesses many works of California artists.

The anniversary exhibition will start on August first and on the same date the association will hold a reception to the general public in the evening. The aniversary exhibit is the principal one of the year and it is anticipated that a new high mark of excellence will be established.

Election of officers of the association is to be held on August 12. Miss Anna A. Hills has been president for two terms.

MARINE EXHIBITION ARRANGED AT BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, July 26—Pomona marine laboratory will make its exhibit of marine specimens taken during the summer's research work at the building on Coast boulevard near Broalway this evening, opening at 8 o'clock. Dr. W. A. Hilton will have charge.

Many interesting and unusual specimens will be shown which have been taken from the Laguna shoreline. Explanations will be made of the exhibits. The public is invited.

School Trustees Awards Contracts

WESTMINSTER, July 26.—The trustees of the Westminster school district met at the school this week for a business session. The matter of a sufficient water supply was taken up and arrangements made to pipe water from the Shafer well, which serves the McCoy tract adjoining the school grounds. Pipe lines will be laid and a meter installed at once.

A contract was given to Mr. Hilton, local contractor for the laying of 450 feet of sidewalk.

It was decided not to build a new separate auditorium or remodel the present one this year as was at first planned. It is said that a junior high school will be put in the local school next year and the present auditorium will be used for a general classroom for these classes and a new auditorium erected.

A new stucco garage of five-car capacity is to be built at once at the school and a strong wire fence is to encircle the school grounds.

RESERVATIONS POUR IN FOR ASSOCIATED CHAMBERS MEET

NEWPORT BEACH, July 26.—Reservations for the dinner of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at the Newport Harbor Yacht club the evening of July 30 are pouring into the local headquarters.

The unusual interest being evidenced in this meeting is believed caused by the fact that the committee on flood control and water conservation will be announced at this time.

According to newspaper reports, Lotus Loudon, the president, has made the statement that there is but one thing possible, and that is to go forward with the plan already submitted, so the method that he will pursue in appointing the committee has aroused considerable interest.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock and the delegates will be tendered a boat ride around the bay as the guests of the local chamber of commerce.

The boats will be ready at 5 p. m. at the clubhouse float.

After the dinner the Balboa Beach Amusement company will act as hosts and dancing may be enjoyed at the Rendezvous ball room in Balboa.

MESA CHURCH IN PLANS FOR SUNDAY EVENT

COSTA MESA, July 26.—A year ago next Sunday evening the Costa Mesa Community church held its first service in the new building. It was an evening service; hence the celebration of the anniversary will be at 7:30 o'clock. The congregation will assemble in the old church but the songs and thanksgivings will culminate in the new sanctuary.

The pastor, the Rev. Lyman R. Bayard, will speak on, "Enter Thou Into the Joy of Thy Lord." During the year the new church has become well known throughout this region for its beauty, its lofty tower, and its worshipful interior.

At the morning service the Lord's Supper will be administered.

Assemblyman And Chamber Head At Moffatt Luncheon

BREA, July 25.—H. M. Massey, president of the Brea Chamber of Commerce, and Assemblyman Ted Craig attended a luncheon given by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles Wednesday at which Admiral Moffatt and committee from Washington were guests. Moffatt is on the coast to inspect sites proposed for a dirigible site.

Beach Cottages Proving Popular

SUNSET BEACH, July 26. — Beach cottages here are increasing in popularity, according to J. H. Gleason, well known merchant of that city. Beach cottages at Sunset Beach are set right against the beating surf. At some cottages the breakfast nook is in front and within a dozen feet of where the water washes the sands.

WRITER TELLS ROTARIANS OF STATE SCENES

ORANGE, July 26.—Ernest McGaffey, head of the magazine bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary club at the American Legion clubhouse yesterday.

McGaffey spoke on the points of interest in Southern California, bringing out the fact that the interest attached to each community is varied. Some places are interesting because of the oil that is produced in the community, some from an agricultural standpoint and some for their scenic beauty, the speaker said.

The interesting places in the 13 counties included in the Auto club were described by McGaffey. The speaker writes for magazines all over the world on topics connected with the automobile. Wherever the automobile had penetrated, McGaffey said, there are magazines devoted to discussion of motor problems.

The speaker was a reporter on the staff of the Chicago Inter-Ocean and papers in Portland and Los Angeles at one time. Magazines for which he writes are published in China, England, Holland, France, Germany, Austria, Norway, Sweden, New Zealand and Mexico.

E. E. Campbell was the chairman of the day.

FIREMEN WILL BE TAKEN ON COUNTY TOURS

FULLERTON, July 26.—Opportunity of seeing the greater portion of Orange county will be afforded visiting firemen and friends at the California State Firemen's association convention to be held here August 7, 8 and 9 as the guests of the Orange County Firemen's association.

A number of sightseeing trips are included in the plans for entertainment and special trips for the women of the party are being arranged.

The first trip will be taken on the opening day following registration and will include Buena Park, Garden Grove and Huntington Beach, ending up at the Greek theater in Anaheim, where a program will be presented.

A trip to Laguna Beach to visit the art galleries is scheduled for the second day and a trip through the southern part of the county and a barbecue at Irvine park will end this excursion.

The third trip will pass through La Habra, Brea, Placentia, Orange and Santa Ana with lunch served at Birch park in Santa Ana. Following the lunch, the party will proceed to Newport Beach, where a ride on the bay will be enjoyed.

Team Utilized To Clean Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 25.—Huntington Beach believes it has the cleanest beach on the south coast. Mr. Underwood has been employed to patrol the beach every morning with a team and remove all rubbish. Sea weed and drift wood are collected on mats and the wagon driven along the beach to load the mats, which are carted to the dump ground. Underwood also has a beach sand rake which he uses to search for lost articles.

The loss of any article reported to the life guard, Gene Belche, is in turn reported to Underwood, who makes a search. This week a beach visitor reported the loss of a $100 set of false teeth. Underwood combed a section of the beach and found a discarded ladies' bathing suit and a faded wig, but a certain tourist went home toothless.

Resume Services In Midway City Church July 28

MIDWAY CITY, July 26—Church services will be resumed next Sunday at 7:30 o'clock at the Midway City Nazarene church. They have been omitted the past two Sundays to give the pastor and congregation an opportunity to attend the Nazarene conference in Santa Ana.

A young people's society is to be organized here one week from Sunday.

ANAHEIM C. C. ELECTION DUE SEPTEMBER 1

ANAHEIM, July 26.—Election of officers for the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce was postponed until the first of September, at a meeting held for that purpose, yesterday. The absence of a quorum prevented the transaction of the business planned.

George W. Reid, secretary of the Anaheim body, was granted a leave of absence of two weeks, which he will spend in the high Sierras. Mrs. Ruth Reid, assistant secretary, will have charge of the office while he is gone.

The matter of entering an exhibit at the Orange county fair was discussed and was referred to the finance committee.

YOUNG PIANIST OF SANTA ANA PLEASES CROWD

ANAHEIM, July 26.—Never did Cinderella step into her pumpkin coach in the midst of more beautiful surroundings than did the pretty marionette who represented this well - known character from fairyland at the Anaheim city park last night, when 5000 persons gathered to witness the Kegg-Goldsmith show from Hollywood.

The Greek theater was packed to the outer walls and hundreds of persons left the park when they were unable to secure places to see the performers. At the present time the interior of the theater is banked with beds of brilliant petunias and other summer flowers, forming walls of floral beauty.

The three little Swiss yodelers, Reynard, Ruth and Betty Fraunfelder, presented two groups of songs.

Everard Stovall, Santa Ana boy pianist, played Etudes No. 8 and No. 10 from the 10th and 25th opus collections of Chopin. Young Stovall has won high honors in his playing and he was enthusiastically received.

"O Sol Mio" and "Poet and Peasant" were piano accordion numbers played by Frank Close, of Los Angeles.

"Dear Margie:"

I'm all a-static, my dear, if you know what I mean. Bill Clark has such a way with him. This arab knows a good thing when he sees it. Not speaking of myself, of course. But what I mean is that his firm, the Preston Radio Co., 300 North Broadway, is now the only exclusive Atwater Kent radio dealer in Santa Ana.

Can you bear it?

Oh, I forgot to tell you what I was excited about. I just bought a wonderful new electric radio at a darling bargain price—less than half. Isn't that pitiful? Preston is selling everything out except the new Atwater Kent Screen Grid.

Why don't you do that, if you know what I mean.

How good vegetables can be
if cooked in this appetizing way!

MANY men and many children seem to dislike certain vegetable dishes that everyone knows they should eat. That is why the recent work of a group of nationally known women cooking experts is so important. These women working on the problem of taste rediscovered an old secret—add a dash of sugar to vegetables while they are cooking. It makes more difference to the taste than anyone who has not tried it would believe.

No, it does not make the vegetables taste sweet. That must be clear. The little sugar acts as a developer of the tasteful flavors—of the delicious flavors already in the foods. It also makes the vegetables seem fresher and it adds to their color. Experiment now with a little sugar in cooking every kind of vegetable and you will be amazed at the difference it makes.

A great variety of appetizing foods—that is the daily need of children and adults. Remember to use a little sugar as a flavorer for cereals, fruits, vegetables and milk desserts. Sugar, if used intelligently, can help everyone to eat and to enjoy variety. Think of sugar as a seasoning. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

ELVIA ALLMAN WILL FEATURE KHJ HOUR

KHJ will present a light varied program between 7 and 7:30 this evening featuring Miss Elvia Allman singing her interpretation of the old song "Forgotten." Miss Allman and Ralph Peterson will sing as a duet "You Did" from "The Five o'Clock Girl."

The orchestra will play a special arrangement by Lange of "Naila" and a special arrangement by Gayle of "My Inspiration Is You;" Rimsky-Korsakow's "Flight of the Bumble Bee" and "March of the Marionettes." The male quartet will sing "Where Is the Song of Songs." A minstrel show will be on the air between 7:30 and 8 featuring a number of the old time melodies and the "Roamers," four young men of the Don Lee-KHJ staff, who have established themselves as harmonizers de luxe.

Between 8 and 9 the feature program will portray through the medium of music the rushing reverberations of great rivers, the odors of the forest, the dew and damp of the meadows, curling smoke of wigwams, all interpreted by the KHJ symphony orchestra and singers. During this program there will be presented such favorites as "Pale Moon," "From an Indian Pueblo," "Land of Sleepy Water," "Dance of the Pumpkins" and "Hiawatha's Melody of Love."

HENRY HYDE AGAIN ON RCA'S PROGRAM

"Sliding Continents" will be Henry M. Hyde's theme as he presents his third talk on "Wonders of the Earth" in the RCA hour broadcast tonight from 8 to 9 o'clock through NBC system stations, including KFI.

One of Beethoven's most brilliant works, the "Prometheus" overture, will create a fitting atmosphere for Hyde's lecture. This famous composition, which tells in musical terms the life story of Prometheus, who was the founder of civilization according to old mythology, will be interpreted by the RCA orchestra, under Max Dolin's baton.

Margaret O'Dea, contralto, and Harold Spaulding, tenor, will be the soloists. One of three Shakespearean songs by Schubert, "Who Is Sylvia?" is among Spaulding's numbers, while Miss O'Dea will look to the heavens for inspiration as she sings "The Star" by Rogers.

SUMMER SONGFEST ON KEJK PROGRAM

A mid-summer songfest over KEJK at 9 o'clock tonight will mark the high spot of today's programs from that station.

The songs, some with piano and others with orchestral accompaniment, will feature tunes of love and romance.

Previous to that feature, KEJK will have the semi-weekly musical comedy period at 8:30, with Cora Bird, Mildred Ware, Norman Bennett and Tudor Williams in the cast of radio characters.

Light and Cook at 9:30 will conclude the studio hours with a half hour program.

ELVIA ALLMAN WILL FEATURE KHJ HOUR

KHJ will present a light varied program between 7 and 7:30 this evening featuring Miss Elvia Allman singing her interpretation of the old song "Forgotten." Miss Allman and Ralph Peterson will sing as a duet "You Did" from "The Five o'Clock Girl."

The orchestra will play a special arrangement by Lange of "Naila" and a special arrangement by Gayle of "My Inspiration Is You;" Rimsky-Korsakow's "Flight of the Bumble Bee" and "March of the Marionettes." The male quartet will sing "Where Is the Song of Songs." A minstrel show will be on the air between 7:30 and 8 featuring a number of the old time melodies and the "Roamers," four young men of the Don Lee-KHJ staff, who have established themselves as harmonizers de luxe.

Between 8 and 9 the feature program will portray through the medium of music the rushing reverberations of great rivers, the odors of the forest, the dew and damp of the meadows, curling smoke of wigwams, all interpreted by the KHJ symphony orchestra and singers. During this program there will be presented such favorites as "Pale Moon," "From an Indian Pueblo," "Land of Sleepy Water," "Dance of the Pumpkins" and "Hiawatha's Melody of Love."

HENRY HYDE AGAIN ON RCA'S PROGRAM

"Sliding Continents" will be Henry M. Hyde's theme as he presents his third talk on "Wonders of the Earth" in the RCA hour broadcast tonight from 8 to 9 o'clock through NBC system stations, including KFI.

One of Beethoven's most brilliant works, the "Prometheus" overture, will create a fitting atmosphere for Hyde's lecture. This famous composition, which tells in musical terms the life story of Prometheus, who was the founder of civilization according to old mythology, will be interpreted by the RCA orchestra, under Max Dolin's baton.

Margaret O'Dea, contralto, and Harold Spaulding, tenor, will be the soloists. One of three Shakespearean songs by Schubert, "Who Is Sylvia?" is among Spaulding's numbers, while Miss O'Dea will look to the heavens for inspiration as she sings "The Star" by Rogers.

SUMMER SONGFEST ON KEJK PROGRAM

A mid-summer songfest over KEJK at 9 o'clock tonight will mark the high spot of today's programs from that station.

The songs, some with piano and others with orchestral accompaniment, will feature tunes of love and romance.

Previous to that feature, KEJK will have the semi-weekly musical comedy period at 8:30, with Cora Bird, Mildred Ware, Norman Bennett and Tudor Williams in the cast of radio characters.

Light and Cook at 9:30 will conclude the studio hours with a half hour program.

RADIATING with the Radio Editor

Lengthening of Program schedules, Improvement in the Type of programs And increase in The number of Broadcast stations are Making tube Manufacturers happy, For the result of The present trend Has been longer 'Listening hours,' With a consistent Increase in tube sales— In 1928, statistics Show, 61,552,000 Tubes were sold, but It is predicted that This year's sale Will go beyond The 100,000,000 mark— One manufacturer Recently conducted a Survey and found That the excellent Type of program Now being presented Is making night-hawks Of listeners, with The longer hours Putting the tubes to Greater strain Than ever before— The National Broadcasting Company declares That 68 per cent of The listeners use Their sets On an average of Two hours a day, 44 per cent three Hours a day and 24 per cent more Than four Hours a day— This increase in Tube operating Has cut the Life of their service, For while they still Operate the same Number of hours, They are not used Over the same Extensive period As in the past— Operating five hours A day, we are told, The average Tube is good for Six month or A little more—

French Win First Two Davis Cup Singles Matches

COCHET ROUTS BILL TILDEN IN STRAIGHT SETS; YOUNG LOTT LOSES HARD CONTEST

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, Anteuil, France, July 26.—France won both singles matches in the opening day's play of the Davis cup challenge round today, Henry Cochet defeating William Tilden in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2, after Jean Borotra had beaten George Lott in four sets, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4, 7-5. A packed gallery of 8000 perched in the warm sunlight, watched the two Frenchmen rout the American players.

Although Lott won one set from Borotra and carried the fourth set to deuce, there was never a moment during the match when the blonde Chicago boy looked like a winner.

Occasionally he had Borotra worried and working hard, but the bounding Basque's finer assortment of strokes and daring net play conquered him.

Tilden At Cochet's Mercy

Tilden was completely at the mercy of Cochet who allowed the American veteran only six games in the three sets.

By winning both matches today France virtually clinched the Davis cup for another year. To retain the cup she needs only one more victory in the remaining three matches, the doubles tomorrow and the two singles Sunday.

As a result of the two French triumphs, Jacques Brugnon probably will pair with Cochet in the doubles against Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryan tomorrow in order to give Borotra an extra day's rest for his match against Tilden Sunday. Lott will play Cochet in the other singles match Sunday.

The stands were rather surprised at the fine but losing battle Lott put up against Borotra. Lack of experience probably lost Lott many points as the Chicago boy failed to take full advantage of the Basque's mistakes.

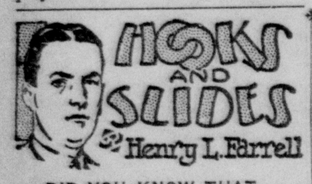
Lott Coming Threat

It was the general impression that Lott is a coming threat to French court supremacy.

It took Cochet only 50 minutes to swamp Tilden. The Frenchman's uncanny anticipation, effortless ground covering and racquet magic completely routed the American.

Tilden tried every stroke he knew but Cochet kept driving the ball back until "Big Bill" finally erred.

The Frenchman did not find it necessary to put on full pressure against Tilden, but allowed the American to beat himself. Most of Cochet's placements were the result of maneuvering Tilden out of position.



DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Gene Robertson, the Yankee third baseman, turned his shirt inside out in a recent game...To change his luck...And Ed Barrow, the Bus. Mgr., bawled him out...And asked..."What do you think we spent all the dough for numbers for?"...The Brooklyns say that the Cincinnatis are playing bush league tricks...Such as taking the bats that belong to the sluggers on the other side...And hiding them...And Babe Herman said he found his bat in the Cincinnati dugout...Helen Wills delayed her departure from England so that she could arrange for the exhibition of pictures that she has drawn...Mel Ott, the handsome boy wonder of the Jints, says he doesn't get any mash notes...And that most of his mail comes from boy fans...They say the most valuable rookie in the American league and the fellow who has been given least credit is Bill Dickey, the Yankee catcher.

THEY WILL SPEAK UP

Unusual as the case may be, the New York sport writers are starting to ride the Giants. It has been the complaint of some editors and newspaper trade journals at frequent times in the past that the New York sport writers were subsidized into silence by the baseball and boxing fellows.

Here, however, are some pieces of evidence to the contrary, culled from the comment of several high ranking New York scribes:

"Once the ball game starts it would not do the Giants a bit of harm to treat every visiting player as though he were trying to take $5000 in world series money away from each and every one of them. Save the kidding around with Bottomley until after the game."

HERE'S ANOTHER

The sleepers in front of the Giants' dugout wouldn't move even when Hogan charged in among them to make a difficult catch of Haines' foul. They should have pillows to sleep on."

AND ANOTHER

"When McMillan, the Cubs' third baseman, was hit on the head the Cubs swarmed out of their dugout to take care of him. When Jackson was hurt the sleepers on the Giant bench never even moved. That's the spirit. Don't disturb yourselves, boys."

Tiernan Win Over Hawley Club Stands

Voting unanimously to uphold the judgment of their umpire, commissioners of the Santa Ana Night Baseball association yesterday disallowed a protest filed by the Hawley Sporting Goods baseball team over the game recently lost to the Tiernan Typewriter company.

The Sportsmen protested because Umpire Frank Corey refused to allow a triple hit by "Rudy" Romo. The umpire said he called time before the play was consummated because an automobile on the bank in left field suddenly switched on its headlights. It has always been the policy in night baseball to close play on such occasions as the headlights often make a glare for the batter and catcher.

In deciding the protest, the first in the City league this year, the commission summoned before it the umpire himself to obtain his version of what happened.

SPORTSMEN IN EASY 12-5 WIN OVER COWBOYS

Parceling out 18 safeties between them, the Hawley Sportsmen easily thrashed the El Corral Cowboys, 12 to 5, in a Santa Ana City league baseball game in the Bowl last night, and remained a strong contender for the championship.

Elwood Lindley, pitching his first full game in the incandescent circuit, was hit hard in the early innings but many of the Hawley bingles were bunts or infield drags and many of their runs were the result of wild pitches which the promising but inexperienced youngster seemed unable to correct. He fanned seven, however.

On the other hand, the El Corrals never had a chance with Mearl Youel, the Hawley gunner, who might have had a shutout with perfect support. Youel allowed only five hits and four of them came in two innings.

Consecutive hits by Romo, Sands, M. Youel and B. Beatty in both the first and second innings gave the Hawley outfit six of their scores. They got another in the fourth, two in the sixth and three in the sixth.

Sands and Beatty hit safely four times for the winners. Beatty also featured with a nice running catch.

Santa Ana and Anaheim take charge of the Bowl tonight. The score:

Schmeling Boxing License Revoked

NEW YORK, July 26—The boxing licenses of Max Schmeling, german heavyweight, and two of his American managers, Joe Jacobs and Billy McCarney, were revoked by the New York state athletic commission at a special meeting today.

BURKE EO TRAIN BRUINS

LOS ANGELES, July 26.—Billy Burke, trainer for the Oakland ball club for eleven years, will report at the University of California at Los Angeles in September to fill the vacancy left by the death of Trainer Scotty Finlay.

HELEN NOT TO WED BEFORE CHRISTMAS

NEW YORK, July 26.—Helen Wills returned home today aboard the liner Aquitania after a triumphant conquest of European courts—both tennis and social.

She announced she will play tennis until it bores her.

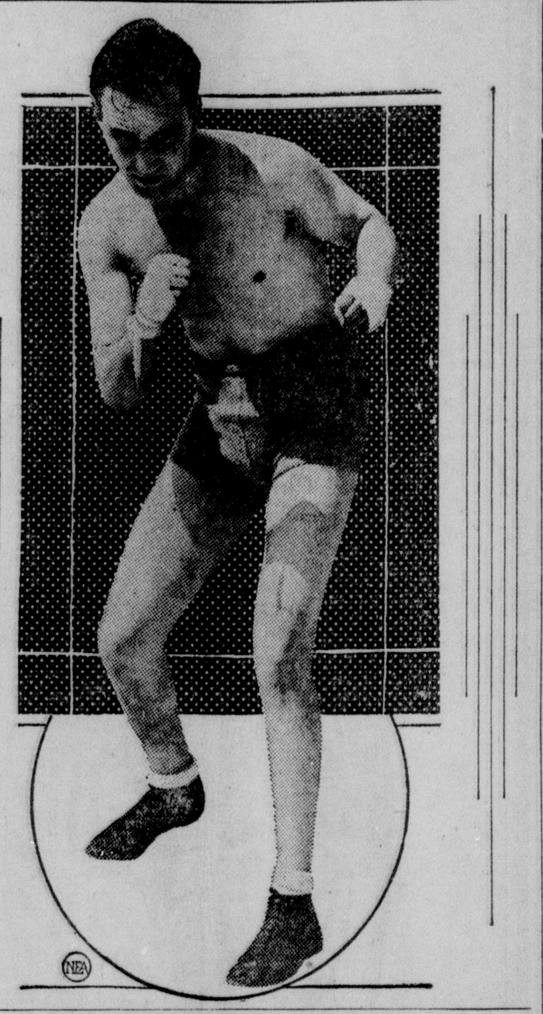
Pressed by reporters for the date of her marriage, Helen said the wedding will not take place before Christmas. She expected to meet her fiance in California late in August.

Miss Wills spoke optimistically about America's young tennis players. She said the outstanding woman star in Europe is Mme. Simone, of France, 22 years old, mother of two children.

PASADENA, July 26.—Jack Haywood defeated Tommy Morgan in 10 rounds in a main event here last night. Kenneth Jackson won the nod over Oriel Astudillo in a 6-round semi-windup.

THE NEW WELTER CHAMPION

Jackie Fields, of Los Angeles, former Olympic Games titleholder, won the world's welterweight boxing championship in Detroit last night when he was fouled by Joe Dundee. Fields knocked Dundee down twice and then Dundee, out on his feet, let go two low blows and was disqualified.



ALL-STAR BOUT CARD PLAN FOR ARENA TUESDAY

Five bouts, all of six-round duration, will be the next attraction at the Orange County Athletic club, Henry T. Foust, promoter and matchmaker, announced today.

"Fighting Joe" Reese, the best young mittman to find development here since Zenaydo Chavez came out of nowhere to make his reputation, will face Tony Bevo, a strong Los Angeles welterweight, in the Tuesday feature.

Reese, formerly billed as Ruiz, surprised the fistic populace recently by drawing with Marty Mack, an experienced Long Beach punch-swapper. Reese went through with the engagement despite a series of boils that reduced his effectiveness.

Tony Moreno, promising Placentia bantam, is also on the all-star card. He goes against Cerilo Acunning. Moreno's sensational upward progress was recently stopped by Jess Gabucco at Hollywood but the knockout failed to discourage the youngster who, however, will have to start climbing again.

Kid Lucas and Young Sport, 112-pounders, will furnish another six-rounder. Lucas stole last week's show, going four spectacular rounds with Billy Cain with never a letup in activity. Sport is regarded as a crowd-pleasing type of fighter who will make Lucas work.

Peter Jackson, colored, and "Nifty" Gonzales, a newcomer here from Ocean Park, are also on the card.

Urban Hernandez and Pete Pina complete the show.

Fencing Popular Sport At Laguna

LAGUNA BEACH, July 26.—Fencing, one of the most ancient of athletic sports, though one which is now somewhat out of fashion, continues to enlist the interest of a dozen Lagunans each week. Practice is in the Brickels warehouse on First street Friday evenings, with John Egasse and H. C. Armitage as instructors.

New foils and masks have been added to the equipment and those who are interested have been faithful attendants. Very few cities of the size of Laguna boast of fencing classes.

JACKIE FIELDS WINS TITLE ON DUNDEE'S FOUL

By ROBERT B. WALLACE
(I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

DETROIT, July 26.—For the sake of the welterweight division, it is to be hoped that Jackie Fields, who won the championship last night from Joe Dundee, defends his title at least occasionally and that when he loses it he will go down like a fighting man.

Dundee, who has been known in the fraternity as a "cheese champion," was dropped twice in the second round by the sharp-shooting young welter from Chicago and the coast, and then lost the fight and his title on a foul.

"The cheese champion took the easy way out," sneered the cynical brotherhood at the ringside, and perhaps they were right.

Maybe the Baltimore Italian did not intend to commit a foul. Possibly he didn't know, as he rose groggy and glassy-eyed from the floor, where his random punches were landing. No one knows but Dundee whether the blow was the malicious, deliberate foul of a desperate fighter, or just an accident.

At all events, it was a most wretched match in which to lose a championship, a sorry finish to a fight which drew a larger gate than any other welterweight bout in history.

Gate receipts were estimated at $175,000, and approximately 27,000 persons came to Promoter Lloyd Fitzsimmons' new outdoor arena to witness the debacle.

While the fight lasted, Fields looked the part of a champion.

Barnes Shoots 66, Leads Canada Golf

MONTREAL, July 26.—Long Jim Barnes, New York professional, led the procession as contenders for the Canadian Open golf championship teed off for their second championship round here today. Barnes shot a 66 for his first 18 holes yesterday.

Nearly two-thirds of the field of 170 golfers who started the first round of play yesterday, will be eliminated today, leaving only the low scorers to fight it out for the title in the final 36 holes tomorrow.

Acorn Game Ticket Sale On Saturday

Tickets for reserved seats to the game in the Bowl here Monday night between Santa Ana and Long Beach, a contest that will virtually decide the championship of the Orange County league, go on sale at the El Corral service station, Third and Birch street tomorrow morning. They may be procured in any number at 25 cents each. The entire sale will be conducted at El Corral, it was announced.

Long Beach has twice defeated the Stars in league competition this season. The score of the first game was 2 to 1 and in the second, 6 to 4, in 11 innings.

Several hundred seats will be reserved for Long Beach fans but the bulk of the 2000 tickets will be available for Santa Ana and other Orange county fans.

JUNIOR STARS SCORE SHUTOUT IN FIRST TIFF

Behind Conrad's airtight pitching the new Santa Ana Junior All-Stars opened their season yesterday by whitewashing Villa Park, 8-0, at Lincoln field. The Stars had things all their own way, not a Villa Park runner reaching third.

Backed by the Elks, the locals should be strong contenders in a league containing Garden Grove, Olive, Villa Park, Fullerton and Anaheim. Membership is limited to boys 16 years old and under. The Stars play Fullerton next Thursday at Fincoln field, in their second league game.

Santa Ana scored three runs in the first when Stanley let Lutz's long fly get away from him, and counted another when Montgomery stole third and home in the second. The fourth was the big inning, when five hits, including three doubles, were manufactured into four runs.

Villa Park's only threat was in the sixth inning when with two gone Heman and Smith singled but Conrad tightened and fanned Walker for the third out. The game was limited to six innings, due to the late start.

The lineup:

SEEK BRADDOCK, OKUN

LOS ANGELES, July 26.—A match between James J. Braddock, who recently put up a hard fight for Tommy Loughran's light heavyweight crown, and Yale Okun, New York boxes now in Los Angeles, is one of the attractions the Olympic hopes to stage next month. Wad Wadhams, watchmaker for J. J. Doyle, said today that he had offered Braddock a large guarantee for a Los Angeles appearance.

STARS MUST WIN TO STAY IN COUNTY LEAGUE RACE; CAPACITY CROWD EXPECTED

Those two ancient and honorable night baseball rivals, Santa Ana and Anaheim, mix it for the third and last time of the 1929 Orange County league season here tonight. A capacity crowd of 2200 is expected to fill the big bleachers in the City Bowl, and the attraction may prove interesting enough to bring out an overflow situation, although the ticket sale was beginning to lag today after a brisk demand for four days.

Pasteboards will be procurable at the El Corral service station until 6 o'clock at which time those remaining will be taken to the Bowl and sold at the main gate on Olive street. Several hundred choice locations were available late today.

The contest is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock but they may get away later than that because the crack drill team of the Orange County American Legion Bugle and Drum corps, which will represent this section at the state convention in San Diego next month, will drill for 15 minutes after the clubs have completed batting practice.

Santa Ana's pennant possibilities, which suffered a temporary jolt at Long Beach Tuesday, virtually hinge on the outcome of the Anaheim struggle. If the Stars lose they will be two full games behind Long Beach, with less than a month in which to make up the lost ground.

Colonists Keyed Up

Anaheim is all but out of the running, although it still is a mathematical contender, but Billy Knott's Colonists are keyed up to a high pitch for this game, as they always are for a combat with Santa Ana, and will "shoot the works" in an effort to ruin the Stars' hopes too. They would rather Long Beach won the title than Santa Ana.

Some think it is almost a foregone conclusion that Joe Ochoa will start for Santa Ana against his old teammates, who have never shown

SANTA ANA, ANAHEIM MEET HERE TONIGHT

French Win First Two Davis Cup Singles Matches

COCHET ROUTS BILL TILDEN IN STRAIGHT SETS; YOUNG LOTT LOSES HARD CONTEST

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, Anteuil, France, July 26.—France won both singles matches in the opening day's play of the Davis cup challenge round today, Henry Cochet defeating William Tilden in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2, after Jean Borotra had beaten George Lott in four sets, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4, 7-5. A packed gallery of 8000 perched in the warm sunlight, watched the two Frenchmen rout the American players.

Although Lott won one set from Borotra and carried the fourth set to deuce, there was never a moment during the match when the blonde Chicago boy looked like a winner.

Occasionally he had Borotra worried and working hard, but the bounding Basque's finer assortment of strokes and daring net play conquered him.

Tilden At Cochet's Mercy

Tilden was completely at the mercy of Cochet who allowed the American veteran only six games in the three sets.

By winning both matches today France virtually clinched the Davis cup for another year. To retain the cup she needs only one more victory in the remaining three matches, the doubles tomorrow and the two singles Sunday.

As a result of the two French triumphs, Jacques Brugnon probably will pair with Cochet in the doubles against Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryan tomorrow in order to give Borotra an extra day's rest for his match against Tilden Sunday. Lott will play Cochet in the other singles match Sunday.

The stands were rather surprised at the fine but losing battle Lott put up against Borotra. Lack of experience probably lost Lott many points as the Chicago boy failed to take full advantage of the Basque's mistakes.

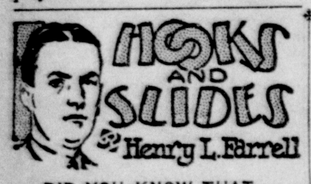
Lott Coming Threat

It was the general impression that Lott is a coming threat to French court supremacy.

It took Cochet only 50 minutes to swamp Tilden. The Frenchman's uncanny anticipation, effortless ground covering and racquet magic completely routed the American.

Tilden tried every stroke he knew but Cochet kept driving the ball back until "Big Bill" finally erred.

The Frenchman did not find it necessary to put on full pressure against Tilden, but allowed the American to beat himself. Most of Cochet's placements were the result of maneuvering Tilden out of position.



DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Gene Robertson, the Yankee third baseman, turned his shirt inside out in a recent game...To change his luck...And Ed Barrow, the Bus. Mgr., bawled him out...And asked..."What do you think we spent all the dough for numbers for?"...The Brooklyns say that the Cincinnatis are playing bush league tricks...Such as taking the bats that belong to the sluggers on the other side...And hiding them...And Babe Herman said he found his bat in the Cincinnati dugout...Helen Wills delayed her departure from England so that she could arrange for the exhibition of pictures that she has drawn...Mel Ott, the handsome boy wonder of the Jints, says he doesn't get any mash notes...And that most of his mail comes from boy fans...They say the most valuable rookie in the American league and the fellow who has been given least credit is Bill Dickey, the Yankee catcher.

THEY WILL SPEAK UP

Unusual as the case may be, the New York sport writers are starting to ride the Giants. It has been the complaint of some editors and newspaper trade journals at frequent times in the past that the New York sport writers were subsidized into silence by the baseball and boxing fellows.

Here, however, are some pieces of evidence to the contrary, culled from the comment of several high ranking New York scribes:

"Once the ball game starts it would not do the Giants a bit of harm to treat every visiting player as though he were trying to take $5000 in world series money away from each and every one of them. Save the kidding around with Bottomley until after the game."

HERE'S ANOTHER

The sleepers in front of the Giants' dugout wouldn't move even when Hogan charged in among them to make a difficult catch of Haines' foul. They should have pillows to sleep on."

AND ANOTHER

"When McMillan, the Cubs' third baseman, was hit on the head the Cubs swarmed out of their dugout to take care of him. When Jackson was hurt the sleepers on the Giant bench never even moved. That's the spirit. Don't disturb yourselves, boys."

Tiernan Win Over Hawley Club Stands

Voting unanimously to uphold the judgment of their umpire, commissioners of the Santa Ana Night Baseball association yesterday disallowed a protest filed by the Hawley Sporting Goods baseball team over the game recently lost to the Tiernan Typewriter company.

The Sportsmen protested because Umpire Frank Corey refused to allow a triple hit by "Rudy" Romo. The umpire said he called time before the play was consummated because an automobile on the bank in left field suddenly switched on its headlights. It has always been the policy in night baseball to close play on such occasions as the headlights often make a glare for the batter and catcher.

In deciding the protest, the first in the City league this year, the commission summoned before it the umpire himself to obtain his version of what happened.

SPORTSMEN IN EASY 12-5 WIN OVER COWBOYS

Parceling out 18 safeties between them, the Hawley Sportsmen easily thrashed the El Corral Cowboys, 12 to 5, in a Santa Ana City league baseball game in the Bowl last night, and remained a strong contender for the championship.

Elwood Lindley, pitching his first full game in the incandescent circuit, was hit hard in the early innings but many of the Hawley bingles were bunts or infield drags and many of their runs were the result of wild pitches which the promising but inexperienced youngster seemed unable to correct. He fanned seven, however.

On the other hand, the El Corrals never had a chance with Mearl Youel, the Hawley gunner, who might have had a shutout with perfect support. Youel allowed only five hits and four of them came in two innings.

Consecutive hits by Romo, Sands, M. Youel and B. Beatty in both the first and second innings gave the Hawley outfit six of their scores. They got another in the fourth, two in the sixth and three in the sixth.

Sands and Beatty hit safely four times for the winners. Beatty also featured with a nice running catch.

Santa Ana and Anaheim take charge of the Bowl tonight. The score:

HELEN NOT TO WED BEFORE CHRISTMAS

NEW YORK, July 26.—Helen Wills returned home today aboard the liner Aquitania after a triumphant conquest of European courts—both tennis and social.

She announced she will play tennis until it bores her.

Pressed by reporters for the date of her marriage, Helen said the wedding will not take place before Christmas. She expected to meet her fiance in California late in August.

Miss Wills spoke optimistically about America's young tennis players. She said the outstanding woman star in Europe is Mme. Simone, of France, 22 years old, mother of two children.

ALL-STAR BOUT CARD PLAN FOR ARENA TUESDAY

Five bouts, all of six-round duration, will be the next attraction at the Orange County Athletic club, Henry T. Foust, promoter and matchmaker, announced today.

"Fighting Joe" Reese, the best young mittman to find development here since Zenaydo Chavez came out of nowhere to make his reputation, will face Tony Bevo, a strong Los Angeles welterweight, in the Tuesday feature.

Reese, formerly billed as Ruiz, surprised the fistic populace recently by drawing with Marty Mack, an experienced Long Beach punch-swapper. Reese went through with the engagement despite a series of boils that reduced his effectiveness.

Tony Moreno, promising Placentia bantam, is also on the all-star card. He goes against Cerilo Acunning. Moreno's sensational upward progress was recently stopped by Jess Gabucco at Hollywood but the knockout failed to discourage the youngster who, however, will have to start climbing again.

Kid Lucas and Young Sport, 112-pounders, will furnish another six-rounder. Lucas stole last week's show, going four spectacular rounds with Billy Cain with never a letup in activity. Sport is regarded as a crowd-pleasing type of fighter who will make Lucas work.

Peter Jackson, colored, and "Nifty" Gonzales, a newcomer here from Ocean Park, are also on the card.

Urban Hernandez and Pete Pina complete the show.

SANTA ANA AND ANAHEIM MEET HERE TONIGHT

any great liking for his hard ones. The local management refused, however, to announce his selection as a definite one, reserving the right to come on with Glenn Stockbridge as a "buffer" and rush Ochoa to the ridge at a psychological moment. Both Santa Ana pitchers were hit hard at Long Beach, leaving little to choose, and since Ochoa had to pitch a full City league match the very next evening it would not be surprising if Stcokbridge, who is just about ripe for a "hot" game anyway, gets the nomination.

Unofficial word from Anaheim was to the effect that young Al Bushman will work for the Knottmen. Bushman baffled the Stars in the first game here and had them beaten until he cracked in the eighth inning of the second set-to at Anaheim so his selection is a logical one. He has always made the Stars hit at bad balls.

Anaheim Asks Odds

With two of their veterans out of town and naturally out of tonight's fuss, Anaheim fans are pessimistic and asking odds on the betting mart. They are getting no sympathy here and likewise no odds. Santa Ana has learned to respect Anaheim, crippled or not crippled. The Colonists have a knack of playing 25 per cent better ball against the locals than against anybody else.

The Colonists may not be as bad off as they would have Santa Ana believe. Marten and Phil Schrott, the missing pair, are first rate ball players but Pete Lehr's return to the lineup will plug one of the infield holes and Lenain will take care of the other quite satisfactorily. Marten was out of the second Santa Ana game and Lenain took care of second base like a veteran.

Santa Ana's players will be under a terrific strain. Anaheim has everything to gain and little to lose whereas the Stars not only must win tonight's quarrel but also the Monday one with Long Beach to stick in the streamer hunt. The squad is in good shape, however. "Memphis" Hill having recovered from injuries to his knees and Ochoa feeling himself again after a brief illness, and the players are hitting the ball better than they have since early in the season. They gave Howard Morning plenty of trouble Tuesday and Morning is rated a better pitcher than young Bushman. The Stars should win after a stiff argument.

Here's Probable Lineup For Tonight's Game

Below are the probable lineups, in batting order, for tonight's game in the Sixth and Olive street Bowl between Santa Ana and Anaheim, Orange County league pennant contenders. The contest will begin at 8 o'clock, with all seats reserved.

POLE-CLIMBERS BEAT TITLEMEN IN P. M. LOOP

Scoring in every inning but the fourth, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company shattered the one-game winning streak of the Orange County Title company in yesterday's Santa Ana Twilight league game in the Bowl. The score was 10 to 6, with both sides hitting freely.

The Pole-Climbers got off in front in the first and never were headed except in the third inning when successive doubles by Elliott and May accounted for three scores and left the count 3 to 2 in favor of the Titlemen.

The Climbers came right back in their half of the chukker, however, and regained the advantage which never was relinquished and a fifth frame flourish assured the Pacifics of victory. Curtis and Underwood singled, Wedell tripled, Tatum doubled and Anderson and Cook both banged sacrifice flies, the sum total of the outbreak being four earned runs.

any great liking for his hard ones. The local management refused, however, to announce his selection as a definite one, reserving the right to come on with Glenn Stockbridge as a "buffer" and rush Ochoa to the ridge at a psychological moment. Both Santa Ana pitchers were hit hard at Long Beach, leaving little to choose, and since Ochoa had to pitch a full City league match the very next evening it would not be surprising if Stockbridge, who is just about ripe for a "hot" game anyway, gets the nomination.

Unofficial word from Anaheim was to the effect that young Al Bushman will work for the Knottmen. Bushman baffled the Stars in the first game here and had them beaten until he cracked in the eighth inning of the second set-to at Anaheim so his selection is a logical one. He has always made the Stars hit at bad balls.

Anaheim Asks Odds

With two of their veterans out of town and naturally out of tonight's fuss, Anaheim fans are pessimistic and asking odds on the betting mart. They are getting no sympathy here and likewise no odds. Santa Ana has learned to respect Anaheim, crippled or not crippled. The Colonists have a knack of playing 25 per cent better ball against the locals than against anybody else.

The Colonists may not be as bad off as they would have Santa Ana believe. Marten and Phil Schrott, the missing pair, are first rate ball players but Pete Lehr's return to the lineup will plug one of the infield holes and Lenain will take care of the other quite satisfactorily. Marten was out of the second Santa Ana game and Lenain took care of second base like a veteran.

Santa Ana's players will be under a terrific strain. Anaheim has everything to gain and little to lose whereas the Stars not only must win tonight's quarrel but also the Monday one with Long Beach to stick in the streamer hunt. The squad is in good shape, however, "Memphis" Hill having recovered from injuries to his knees and Ochoa feeling himself again after a brief illness, and the players are hitting the ball better than they have since early in the season. They gave Howard Morning plenty of trouble Tuesday and Morning is rated a better pitcher than young Bushman. The Stars should win after a stiff argument.

Here's Probable Lineup For Tonight's Game

Below are the probable lineups, in batting order, for tonight's game in the Sixth and Olive street Bowl between Santa Ana and Anaheim, Orange County league pennant contenders. The contest will begin at 8 o'clock, with all seats reserved.

CHAPTER XXIII

"After all, they are only ants," Vilak replied, his lips barely moving. "They're not interested in us. They are merely looking for a meal—sugar, leather, or a leaf they can use in their houses. Interesting little brutes. They could tear down this house in a day or two if it were made of wood they fancied. Lucky for us they are not tarantulas, which are thick in so many of these old deserted houses. Look out for that corner over there near the window. I think I saw the hairy foot of one of them a minute ago. Maybe a nest of them there, but I don't think they'll bother us, unless we bother them."

He stopped short as he heard Elise's voice in the other room, but the wooden door effectually kept out most of the sound; he could not distinguish what she said.

The two men became silent again, motionless except for their regular crushing of the inquisitive crawling visitors. There was a crackling noise in a hole near the bed. A small rat-like animal, with bristling whiskers, and bright bullet-like eyes, emerged from the orifice, looked at the two men curiously, then retreated to his black home.

A few moments later a swarm of brilliant purple butterflies swept down through the broken roof and settling on tables, walls, bed, and men, for an instant, left nothing to be seen but their vivid flaming wings. Then they flew away.

Vilak shot a glance at a shallow pool of water formed in the middle of the room where the ground was lowest. "I have an idea,' he whispered to the old man beside him.

"To escape?" Nunnally's eyes were eager.

"Yes. But don't be too hopeful. It's just an idea. It may not work, but I hope it will. These ropes with which we are tied are hide, like most of the ropes in this part of the country. They ought to expand considerably in water if they haven't been cured too much and allow us to squirm out of them. You remember the story in your primer of the girl who was captured by the Indians and escaped because a heavy rain fell and swelled the cords of deer-hide that bound her? This is the same principle."

He rolled to the edge of the pool, then into it, the water coming up almost to the buttons of his coat. Here he lay, without stirring for half an hour, which to the old man seemed interminable. Then he rolled out again and began manipulating his long wrists, purplish now from the pressure of the cords upon the veins.

The old man watched him breathlessly. For ten minutes Vilak pulled, tugged, twisted, writhed. Now it was his wrists he was attempting to free, now it was his knees, now it was his bony ankles.

"It's no go," he said. "They've only stretched an infinitesimal fraction, if at all. They're oily, and take up practically no water. Sorry. Wish I could smoke a cigaret." He rolled out onto the dry ground again. The old man gazed at him dejectedly and let his head slump back to the mud.

A bizarre-colored toucan flitted onto the windowsill, cocked his huge billed head grotesquely, then flew away. The sound of a horse's hoofs sloughing through the road drifted through the paneless window. Vilak rolled to a crack in the wall, and peered outside. "Another one of our soldier comrades," he announced. "Looks as if he were bringing a message. We ought to know what they are going to do with us pretty quickly now."

They heard the newcomer tramp into the other room. There was a long excited conversation which they could not hear. Then the door into their room opened and the bristling mustached captain entered.

"We have pondered well what is to be done with you, rooting pigs who call yourselves men," he grumbled, glancing down disgustedly at the two mud-covered prisoners and bestowing on them a well-directed kick. "And we have decided. Your woman goes with us. For she is beautiful. Yourselves shall hang like the gallows dogs that you are. My men now get ready their farinha and touchino for they have eaten little because they watch for you, and they have long to travel.

"They are hungry. When they have eaten, then they will rest. For it is not good to travel quickly after eating. Then they will take away your woman. And then you will hang. We do not hang you now for this might make sick the woman, and a sick woman is a burden..As are all women.."

He glanced outside the window where two soldiers were toiling over a steaming black pot. "By the way the touchino boils I will say you have perhaps one, maybe two hours in which to live and cleanse your foul souls. If this is not enough, so will it be the better Inform Senhor the Devil that it is the fault of Capitaz Jose Imperial Chapada. Until an hour, goodby." He kicked them painstakingly again and slammed the door.

The sudden darkness of the equatorial regions began to clutch house, field and forest in its ebony embrace. Peering outside again through the crack in the wall, Vilak saw Elise led to a log on which two soldiers wer e sitting. A third who was guarding her ordered her to sit down between them. She was slow in obeying. The guard jerked her arm cruelly. She struck violently against the wood, then stared up at her captors, helpless but defiant.

Vilak bit his lip fiercely. He watched a moment longer, then rolled back to the edge of the pool and once more immersing himself for an instant, rolled out and again began tugging at his shackles. It was useless. Though his powerful muscles strained until it seemed they must burst, the leathern sinews held.

He ceased his futile efforts and lay on the ground, breathing heavily, too exhausted for the moment to protect himself from the greenish termites crawling in swarms all over his long body.

Suddenly he began to laugh, a low, chuckling laugh. The old man loked at him in amazement, unwilling to believe that the sound had come from between his friend's lips. But there could be no doubt. Vilak was still chuckling. He turned his head smilingly to the old man, then began rubbing his thonged body against the wall. "No, I'm not crazy, Nanny," he murmured, "I'm merely chuckling because I have been crazy ever since we've been in here. Or stupid, whichever you prefer to call it. We've had a way of escape here all the time."

The old man squinted wonderingly around the darkening room. "I don't see..anything. Really..:er.. anything."

"These termites." He lay upon the ground again, and let the insects swarm over him. "They're wild about leather and hides of any sort. I've had the soles of far too many shoes eaten up over night down here not to know that. They want to eat these hide ropes with which we're tied. That's undoubtedly what's drawn them to us. The ropes have probably been soaked in oil besides, and that's made them doubly attractive. They've been trying to save us and we wouldn't let them.

"Don't beat them off any longer. At the expense of a few stray nips they'll have us cut loose in half an hour or less."

He put his eye to the crank in the wall again and watched, while the insects, finding themselves unmolested, crawled upon him increasing numbers until his body seemed a trembling greenish carpet. Some hurled themselves upon his leather puttees and shoes and, digging their razor-like pinchers deep into the fiber, began carrying off tiny morsels to their unseen hill not far off in the jungle. Others began to attack the thick, squarish ropes that bound his limbs.

It had now become completely dark and by the firelight he could see the soldiers gather round for their steaming meal. Elise still sat on the log, patient, immobile. Each moment Vilak's fingers roamed along the hide for the few inches they could reach to see how the work of destruction was progressing. At length he felt a notch where the insects had bitten more deeply than the rest. Concentrating all his energies in one tremendous impulse, he thrust his arms forward from his chest. Half the effort would have sufficed, for the cord, almost severed, snapped as though it had been a thread. He was free.

(To Be Continue)

Vilak's plan is successful. In the next chapter he and his captors escape, though still in ignorance of the reasons for their capture.

STANTON

STANTON, July 26.—Mr. J. H. Rutledge and Mr. King Rutledge and two daughters, Mary Jane and Katherine Rutledge, took a trip to Catalina one day recently. Another day Paul and Lee Benson, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Fish and two little daughters, Ruth and Esther, and Mrs. Nellie Benson went to the island.

J. H. Rutledge has received word that his sister, Mrs. E. W. Roberts, of Montana, had lost her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts were planning to come to California another winter. A niece of Mrs. Rutledge's, Mrs. J. J. Toner, is ill and will soon come to spend some time with Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge.

Mrs. R. D. Gillison began clerking in Fullerton Monday morning. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Gillison and her mother, Mrs. M. B. Curtis, had waffle dinner with Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Gillison in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Johnson visited his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Eades, of Los Angeles, and on Friday they joined a company of Redlands friends for a picnic at Irvine park. Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Eaton, of Monrovia, were guests in the Johnson home recently and Mr. and Mrs. E. Callahan and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Chappelke, of Redlands, were callers.

Mrs. M. B. Curtis spent a part of last week with her son, Guy Curtis, and family, of Fullerton.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Beecher are away on a trip to Honolulu. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Cheroske, of Los Angeles. While they are gone Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews, of Long Beach, are caring for the Bechor home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Maurer and son, Walter, took a trip Sunday to Lake Elsinore and Perris and through the Mocking Bird canyon. Mrs. J. H. Evans and her daughter, Mrs. M. Hughes, of Long Beech, took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Maurer one day recently.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Crocket, of Hawthorne, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thompson, Monday and brought Betty Lou Thompson, who had been spending a couple of weeks with them, home.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Wilson, of Fillemore, are visiting his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. McKibben. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have been spending the summer at Catalina island.

F. Williams was doing business in Los Angeles one day the latter part of the week.

CHAPTER XXIII

"After all, they are only ants," Vilak replied, his lips barely moving. "They're not interested in us. They are merely looking for a meal—sugar, leather, or a leaf they can use in their houses. Interesting little brutes. They could tear down this house in a day or two if it were made of wood they fancied. Lucky for us they are not tarantulas, which are thick in so many of these old deserted houses. Look out for that corner over there near the window. I think I saw the hairy foot of one of them a minute ago. Maybe a nest of them there, but I don't think they'll bother us, unless we bother them."

He stopped short as he heard Elise's voice in the other room, but the wooden door effectually kept out most of the sound; he could not distinguish what she said.

The two men became silent again, motionless except for their regular crushing of the inquisitive crawling visitors. There was a crackling noise in a hole near the bed. A small rat-like animal, with bristling whiskers, and bright bullet-like eyes, emerged from the orifice, looked at the two men curiously, then retreated to his black home.

Youth Jailed On Charge Of Passing Five Bad Checks

MUSIC FEATURE AT MEETING OF S. A. LIONS CLUB

The program at the Lions club luncheon, yesterday, under the direction of Charlton Watters, consisted of a group of musical numbers by several young Santa Anans and a travel talk by T. A. Winbigler.

The musicians, who were introduced by Herman Zabel, were Emeline Richards and William Fox, violinists, accompanied by Allien Laird; Helen Winchel, soprano; Roy Grisset, saxophone soloist, and Lizetta Phillips, who accompanied the last two artists.

The regular monthly collection for the support of a boy the club is financing in the health camp for a period of a year brought a collection of $46.25.

Announcements made by Lyle Anderson, president, included appointment of Charles Marble to head the entertainment committee for next week. The annual Lions club picnic, in Irvine park, was set for August 22. The club will participate in the joint service club meeting, August 20, which is to be addressed by Gov. C. C. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Blake have moved here from Los Angeles and have taken up their residence at 1302 North Broadway.

Blake is director of the organization committee of the $30,000,000 Aircraft Finance Corporation of America, the first and largest corporation of its kind in the world.

Mrs. Blake is a lecturer and writer along the lines of higher metaphysics and the ocult and for many years was a co-worker with the late Marion Harland in social welfare and prison reform work.

Mrs. Blake is a musician of note, having sung professionally for many years.

LETTERS FROM BOYS TELL OF CAMP ROUTINE

Several letters, describing the daily routine of camp life and telling experiences on hiking trips were received today from Boy Scouts in the Orange county Scout camp, Ro-Ki-Li, near Seven Oaks, in the San Bernardino mountains. Considering the warm days which residents of Santa Ana have been experiencing for the last week, their stories of playing in the snow and sliding down glaciers sound quite enticing.

The letters were written to the editor of The Register and served the boys as meal tickets at mess one day. Letters from Roy Hill, Kensil D. Brown, Oakes Newcom, Jack Hawkins, Carl Bower, Demont Galbraith and Richard Clark were received. Excerpts from some of the letters follow:

"Having Swell Time"

"I sure am having a swell time here. We just got back from a three-day hike today. Fifteen of the fellows went to Slushy Meadows, while the other 60 went to Dry Lake and Grayback. The 15 started at 1:30 Thursday and camped overnight at Slushy Meadows. The next morning they started to Dollar lake, arriving there at 10 o'clock. After playing in the snow and fishing in the lake they went back to Slushy Meadows and camped all night, then went back to camp next morning.—Demont Galbraith."

"Our camp director has asked us to write our town editor. I don't live in Santa Ana, but I take the paper. I am at Camp Ro-Ki-Li and am a patrol leader. I am from troop 74, Anaheim. I am having a wonderful time. We got back from Grayback this morning and had pretty good eats. I will have to close now as the bugle is blowing.—Richard Clark."

"In the morning at 6:20 the bugler blows first call, then at 6:30 comes reveille and everybody piles out of bed. At 7 o'clock the camp assembles and the patrol that won inspection the day before raises the flag. From there we march down to breakfast, where we eat all we can hold. Right after breakfast every one fixes up their cabin for inspection, which comes at 8:30. Then at 9 o'clock the camp assembles for crafts, which include first aid, archery, beadwork, leather craft and wood carving. They work on these until 11:15, when the camp goes swimming. While in swimming those who wish it can have instruction in junior life saving. After the swim, everybody goes to dinner. After dinner the trading post is open so the boys can buy 10 cents worth of candy or check out one of the library books. From then until 4:30 is generally free time. After 4:30 sometimes we have a ball game and sometimes we go swimming. Then at 5:45 the camp assembles and watches the patrol take the flag down. Then the camp marches down to supper. About an hour after supper the whole camp attends camp fire. Then at 9:30 we turn in for a good night's sleep. —Carl Bower, editor of the camp paper."

Slide Down Glaciers

"Some of us went on a hike to Grayback Thursday afternoon and we returned Saturday in time for dinner. The mountain, which is 11,485 feet high, had three glaciers on it which we slid down. It was quite a scene up there—we could see all over the valley. This camp has a very good location and we have a good time up here. Just the other day a wild deer ran through camp and she sure was making knots. Several of the boys are making leather bags.—Jack Hawkins."

NEW PASSENGER LINER BREAKS ALL OCEAN SPEED RECORDS

This art shows the ammmoth s ize of the new German liner Bremen, the largest ship in the world except the Leviathan, which broke all Atlantic speed records on her maiden voyage from Bremen, Germany, to New York. The great vessel is slightly longer than a train of 22 box cars with locomotive, much longer than the dirigible Graf Zeppelin and, if stood on end, would tower many stories above the Woolworth building. It is 938 feet in length, 88 feet wide, of 46,000 tons, carries 2200 passengers and a crew of 950. Several hundred miles out, a mail plane takes off for shore to expedite delivery. Captain Leopold Ziegenbein is skipper of this new ocean greyhound of the North German Lloyd line.

Brothers Meet After 20 Years

MIDWAY CITY, July 26.—Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Nelson motored to San Pedro this week to meet Mr. Nelson's brother, M. E. Nelson, who arrived from Sweden.

It had been 20 years since the two brothers met. Ernest Nelson, another brother from Los Angeles, joined them at the Midway City home of N. A. Nelson, his wife accompanying him. M. E. Nelson is in Los Angeles for a few days' visit with an aunt and is to return here soon. He will make his home here. This is his first trip to America.

Fence Fails To Stop Fishing In Gun Club Ponds

SUNSET BEACH, July 26.—Poachers stand on the Coast highway near Sunset Beach and cast long lines into the waters inside the Bolsa Chica Gun club grounds, angling for fish. In the duck season, hunters line the highway shooting at ducks that fly from the gun club grounds to safety on the ocean waters.

"Hard luck for a gun club when a state highway pushes itself through the gun club premises," a member commented today.

LUNCHEON GUESTS

SAN CLEMENTE, July 26.—More than 200 men and women sales agents of the Ole Hanson organization were feted at a luncheon at Aqua Caliente today. They were the guests of Huteson and Murphine, sales agents of San Clemente.

Beach Youth Is Bitten By Dog

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 25.—Anthony Mollica, high school post-graduate of the class of '29 and associated with his father in the Mollica shoe store and repair shop, was bitten by a dog at the beach yesterday. Mollica was playing "touch tackle" and fell on the dog. The dog bit Mollica on the thigh and the wound necessitated the attention of a physician. The dog was allowed to go free.

PRINCE PLANS SAN CLEMENTE SOJOURN SOON

SAN CLEMENTE, July 26.—Fritz Wilhelm, Prince Holm, Duke of Kolachine, possessor of 52 decorations conferred on him by different countries since 1902, will be a San Clemente visitor next week. Prince Holm, a classmate of Capt. H. H. Hammer, secretary of the San Clemente Chamber of Commerce, at the Danish naval academy, was a visitor here last night and informed Catain Hammer that after a trip to Monticitio he would return to the Spanish village to remain a week before returning to Paris.

Prince Holm, explorer, writer, lecturer and author of the Holm war-abolition law project, came to America to attend to some legal matters with a Boston Publishing company, which has contracted to publish his latest book. The prince told Captain Hammer that this was his first trip to Southern California and that he was so impressed with the European touch at San Clemente he wanted to spend a week of rest here.

The prince's most prized possession, according to Captain Hammer, is the decoration of the Orthodox Order of the Holy Sepulcher. He also has decorations from France, Belgium, Bulgaria, Cuba, Holy See, Japan, Mexico, Montenegro, Portugal Russia and Spain.

HAD NINE MORE IN HIS POCKET, POLICE ASSERT

Accused of passing five fictitious checks to Santa Ana merchants, yesterday afternoon, Claude Newman, 18, of 340 East Amerige street, Fullerton, was arrested at Fourth and Broadway at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and is being held in the county jail.

Officers Adams and Perry, who arrested Newman, found nine other checks, for $10 and $20, in a purse in his pocket, they said. All of the checks were signed by "Dell Empy" and all were on the Santa Ana Commercial bank, the officers declared.

Newman is accused of passing $10 checks to the Santa Ana branch of the Western Auto Supply company, the Wurlitzer Radio shop, Gerrard's West End market, and the Eastman book store. The Richelieu Meat market was given a check for $20, it was said.

A total of $34 in cash was found on Newman's person at the time he was arrested, officers said. His method of passing the checks, according to officers, was to make a purchase and then offer the check in payment, receiving cash in change.

MUSIC FEATURE AT MEETING OF S. A. LIONS CLUB

The program at the Lions club luncheon, yesterday, under the direction of Charlton Watters, consisted of a group of musical numbers by several young Santa Anans and a travel talk by T. A. Winbigler.

The musicians, who were introduced by Herman Zabel, were Emeline Richards and William Fox, violinists, accompanied by Allien Laird; Helen Winchel, soprano; Roy Grisset, saxophone soloist, and Lizetta Phillips, who accompanied the last two artists.

The regular monthly collection for the support of a boy the club is financing in the health camp for a period of a year brought a collection of $46.25.

Announcements made by Lyle Anderson, president, included appointment of Charles Marble to head the entertainment committee for next week. The annual Lions club picnic, in Irvine park, was set for August 22. The club will participate in the joint service club meeting, August 20, which is to be addressed by Gov. C. C. Young.

LETTERS FROM BOYS TELL OF CAMP ROUTINE

Several letters, describing the daily routine of camp life and telling experiences on hiking trips were received today from Boy Scouts in the Orange county Scout camp, Ro-Ki-Li, near Seven Oaks, in the San Bernardino mountains. Considering the warm days which residents of Santa Ana have been experiencing for the last week, their stories of playing in the snow and sliding down glaciers sound quite enticing.

The letters were written to the editor of The Register and served the boys as meal tickets at mess one day. Letters from Roy Hill, Kensil D. Brown, Oakes Newcom, Jack Hawkins, Carl Bower, Demont Galbraith and Richard Clark were received. Excerpts from some of the letters follow:

Cudahy's Puritan Ham
Finer Flavor because -ripened naturally

Distinguished in name. Puritan Ham is—"First in the Land," because of its finer flavor and greater tenderness.
Puritan owes this distinction to the special Cudahy method of curing—"ripened naturally."
This method naturally diffuses the sweet juices of the young meats selected for Puritan, without forcing or hurrying.
The result is likened to fruit tree-ripened compared to fruit artificially ripened. You'll thoroughly enjoy Puritan Ham.

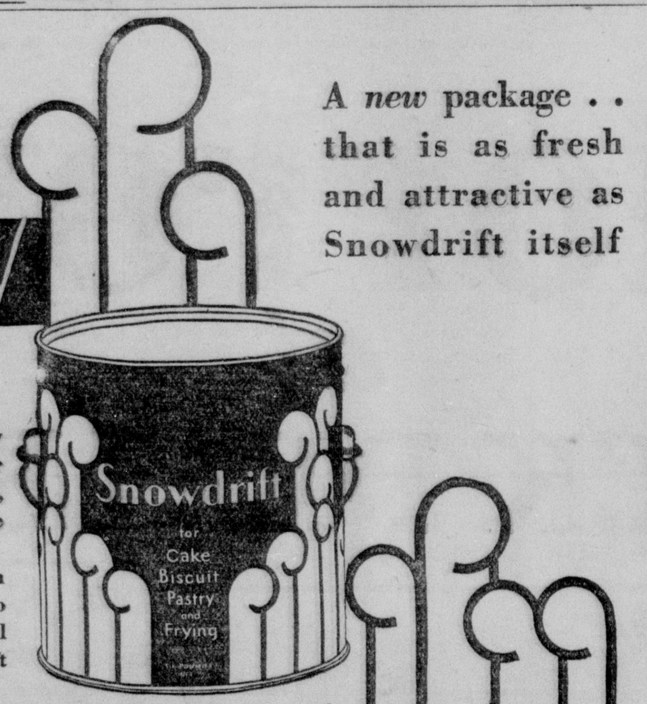
New

A new package .. that is as fresh and attractive as Snowdrift itself



You will recognize the new blue and white can on your grocer's shelf as Snowdrift, even before you read the label.

The design is so clean and inviting and fresh—so simple and modern. For all the world like Snowdrift itself!

You'll be pleased when you learn of the convenience of the large cans—the new three and six pound sizes. Just about as wide as they are tall and as easy to spoon from as from your own mixing bowl. These new sizes add to the convenience of Snowdrift itself.

And convenience, you know, is just another word for snowdrift's creaminess. A creamy texture so smooth and so spoonable that you never have to work it into sugar or flour—just put them together and mix with a few stirs of the spoon.

Maybe that's why Snowdrift cakes and biscuits and pie crust have such an unusually fine texture, and why food fried in Snowdrift is so deliciously good to eat.

Cudahy's Puritan Ham
Finer Flavor because—ripened naturally

Distinguished in name. Puritan Ham is—"First in the Land," because of its finer flavor and greater tenderness.
Puritan owes this distinction to the special Cudahy method of curing—"ripened naturally."
This method naturally diffuses the sweet juices of the young meats selected for Puritan, without forcing or hurrying.
The result is likened to fruit tree-ripened compared to fruit artificially ripened. You'll thoroughly enjoy Puritan Ham.

A new package .. that is as fresh and attractive as Snowdrift itself

You will recognize the new blue and white can on your grocer's shelf as Snowdrift, even before you read the label.
The design is so clean and inviting and fresh—so simple and modern. For all the world like Snowdrift itself!
You'll be pleased when you learn of the convenience of the large cans—the new three and six pound sizes. Just about as wide as they are tall and as easy to spoon from as from your own mixing bowl. These new sizes add to the convenience of Snowdrift itself.
And convenience, you know, is just another word for snowdrift's creaminess. A creamy texture so smooth and so spoonable that you never have to work it into sugar or flour—just put them together and mix with a few stirs of the spoon.
Maybe that's why Snowdrift cakes and biscuits and pie crust have such an unusually fine texture, and why food fried in Snowdrift is so deliciously good to eat.

PIGGLY WIGGLY

Through the turnstile to lower prices
The Piggly Wiggly Turnstile is a symbol of real shopping economy to thousands of Southern California housewives. Week after week it shows them the way to lower grocery bills, and unusual opportunities for saving money on nationally advertised foods. "Click, click—come in," it seems to say, "you'll find special values all around you!"
These prices are effective Thursday, Friday, Saturday, July 25th to 27th, incl., at all Piggly Wiggly Stores in Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties (except Needles, Calif.).

"Hurray!" cried Clowny. "Think of this. Why, honestly, I'd never miss this wondrous trip for anything. We're lucky as can be. This circus train we hopped aboard has, in its string of fine cars, stored a lot of dandy animals that we will surely see.

"I wonder where they next will show. Where'er it is, is where we'll go. Imagine watching workmen pitch the tent up to the sky. And then they'll have a little band to play some music. Oh, how grand." Poor Clowny was so thrilled he shortly sat down with a sigh.

"I must admit this seems a treat," said Scouty. "But who will we meet? Supposin' some gruff fellow makes us get off of the train. He'll say, 'What are you on here for?' And then we'll miss all things in store. I hate to think that, after all, our ride may be in vain."

Then Coppy shouted, with a grin, "I'll tell you what! Let's break right into one of these small circus cars and find out who is there. If they are kind they'll treat us right. If not, we'll disappear from sight, 'cause they will likely toss us off. That gives me quite a scare."

Wee Scouty thought, and in a wink, he said, "Well, boys, I frankly think I have a better plan than that. We'll climb right off of here, and to the engine we will go. Come on, the train is moving slow. As soon as we get up there we will meet the engineer."

So, off they jumped, and ran ahead. In just a moment Scouty said: "Hello there Mister Engineer. Can we go for a ride?" The engineer smiled at the crowd, and said: "To meet you I am proud. Sure, you can go along with us. Be quick now! Hop inside."

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. Its probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letter cannot be changed.

ficially or otherwise as between the two dam sites, and there was some division among them on that matter. No one connected with either company ever discussed with me my position as to the proper site, and I took no position on that matter prior to the engineer's report. Had the engineers been able to give assurance that there would be no shutting off of water by a dam at the upper site, I am sure everyone connected with the two companies would have preferred that site.

Litigation

There was never any talk or threat of litigation with the water companies if the dam were located at Prado. The nearest approach to that was when we attorneys were asked if the district could be held liable for damages if it placed a dam at Prado and it caused a loss of water resulting in damage to orchards or crops. Our answer was that it could if those facts were proved. The question and answer applied not to the water companies, but to the owners of property anywhere in the district affected by that condition, whether it be at Garden Grove, Orange, or Buena Park. But why do you ignore Judge Williams, Mr. Burke? He has always been considered one of our best lawyers, and was never accused of being anybody's "yes man."

No Politics

In fact Editor Burke's effort to find some deep political plot in connection with this flood control matter is absurd. Our supervisors are honest men, coming from different sections of the county, and each zealous for the best interest of the whole county. I think not one of them resides in territory supplied with water through the two water companies, or is a stockholder in either. If there were any secret meetings or if there were any "politics" of any kind in connection with the matter, I never heard of it, and if there had been I think I would have learned of it.

No Pay

In answer to one of Mr. Burke's statements, let me say that I never said that I received no pay for my work as one of the attorneys for the Flood Control District. On the contrary, I publicly stated that Judge Williams and I were paid for our services; that those services ended when we finished preparing the resolution calling the election, the notice of election and the form of ballot. I further stated that I was not paid for any work I did during bond election campaign, that I have never accepted pay for any part I take on public questions, and that no one, client or other, can dictate or influence my position in such matters.

I wish to compliment Mr. Burke on not hesitating to indulge in personalities. I would much rather receive a slap in the face than a stab in the back and have no use for cowardly insinuations.

A Prophecy

It is conceded that the only way of preventing flood damage by and conserving the storm waters of the Santa Ana river, in Orange county, is by the construction of a gigantic dam in the lower Santa Ana canyon, and that there are two available sites for that dam, one at Prado and one at the lower site. I predict that there will be nothing but wrangling about the matter until we are confronted with calamity by flood or water shortage; then, in a panic, we will vote bonds for a dam somewhere. When that is done, if the bonds can be sold, it will be at least ten years before any dam can be completed. The validity of the act and of the bonds must be tested by court action. Then there must be thousands of acres of land acquired, most of it by condemnation suit, and highways and railways taken, probably by suit. All this will require at last five years and must precede actual construction work, which itself will require five years. Even if completion of the dam is followed by wet years, it will require a number of years of operation to appreciably replenish our basin, for it is large and sustains a heavy draft. Meantime, Riverside and San Bernardino counties are moving to form a district of their own and prepare to catch the storm water far above us, to which we cannot object so long as we are not prepared to handle our share. What will happen to Orange county requires no prophet to relate.

That Auger

I hope I am a false prophet, but I make that prophecy because of what I have learned of water conditions and of human nature, and in spite of the fact that my good friend Jim Metzger assures me that notwithstanding the official records of fast lowering water levels through wet years and dry, and regardless what we have experienced in flood damage, nevertheless we need not be alarmed for there will be no water shortage or flood damage. So he proposes to take his time about it and do some investigating by boring some holes in the bedrock with a three inch auger. True we have already bored lots of holes and know that the bedrock is safe and solid at both sites; but there is some peculiar virtue in that three inch auger, so he must use it. Be careful, Jim; you might bore too far and let what little water is left run out through the hole!

Are you saving your calves?

Nowhere like in Southern California are the dairymen depending on other areas for renewal of their herds. SAVE YOUR CALVES.

A good calf meal will raise a calf at one-fourth the cost of raw milk.

We recommend Blatchford's CALF MEAL

There are many brands of calf meals on the market today—but only one Blatchford's.

Blatchford's is the original and is recognized by calf-raisers everywhere to be the best. On thousands of farms it is considered indispensable to the proper raising of calves. You should be using it. It's a real money-saver.

JAIL S. A. MAN ON FAILURE TO PAY BOOZE FINE

A surprise raid on the home of Modesto Moreno, 42, at 1134 West Second street, late yesterday afternoon, netted Santa Ana police officers eight pints of whiskey and one prisoner, they reported today.

Moreno was arrested on a charge of possession of liquor and was lodged in the county jail. The liquor was found in a cupboard on the back porch of the house, it was reported.

Officers Hershey, Adams and Perry made the raid after they had received a tip that liquor was being dispensed there, the officers said.

Moreno pleaded guilty to the charge in Judge J. F. Talbott's police court this morning and was fined $300, which he was unable to pay. He was returned to jail to serve one day for each $2 of the fine.

M'GEE PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO PERJURY COUNT

First hints of a skirmish between counsel in the case of William R. McGee, of Los Angeles, charged with perjury, appeared in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court today when McGee pleaded not guilty to the charge.

McGee's attorney, Sidney Sampson, asked that the case be set for a date early in September, stating that the client would waive the statutory period for going to trial.

Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman suggested to the court that the prosecution would like to have as early a date as possible, pointing out that its witnesses would be more easily available than at a late date.

"What is your object in asking for the delay?" asked the court.

"Your honor, I have a rather full calendar for the next two weeks. And then, you see, I would like to take a vacation."

The court set the trial for August 20.

"How long will it take to try the case?" he asked.

"It should take about two days," replied Kaufman.

"I think one day would be enough parried Sampson. "If the prosecution is fast one day should be enough."

"The prosecution is fast all right," said Kaufman, "but the preliminary examination took almost one day and the trial will bring out much more testimony."

The court allowed two days for the trial.

The charge against McGee arose as a result of his testimony as an alibi witness for Walter Meeks, who was convicted here on a charge of selling liquor and was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

Police News

An automobile owned by Ysabel Martinez, of Mesa, Ariz., reported stolen from near Second and Ross streets last night, was recovered by officers a short time later.

Frank Morris, 53, found asleep in a box car on the Santa Fe tracks here last night, was arrested by Officer James Murray and lodged in the county jail on a vagrancy charge.

A. L. (Jake) Hart, 27, Placentia box maker, was arrested last night in Placentia on a reckless driving charge. He was lodged in the county jail.

CHARGE PATROL VIOLATED

Charged with violation of his parole, allowed him on a non-support charge several months ago, Fortuna Para, 36, of Placentia, was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Jemison and Ryan, yesterday, and lodged in the county jail. The complaining witness in the case is Para's wife.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by Henry L. Farrell

McMillan was hurt, as mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

"Joe McCarthy got a terrible shock in the sixth inning when McMillan lost a foul in the sun in front of the boxes behind third base. The ball cracked McMillan on the top of the head and bounced into the stands as the player went down in a heap. Norman shook off his dizziness, however, returned to his job and two innings later had the Giants dizzy with a spectacular stop. That's the spirit the Cubs have."

MY GOODNESS, ROGERS

Even the brightest of the boys pull their honors. In a recent game between the Giants and the Cubs, Hornsby and Grimm of the Chicagos were fagging themselves out trying to run down Cohen between first and second and Andy was having a swell time keeping them working. Umpire Hart finally stopped the fun. He went out and told Mr. Hornsby that the batter had been given a base on balls and that Mr. Cohen was entitled to second base without molestation.

THOSE FUNNY BROOKLYNS!

The Brooklyns pulled one a few days ago that made the umpires laugh. The Brooklyns, however, can be expected to do those things. In fact, the customers lay their money on the line to see the Brooklyns do those things.

The Brooklyns and the Cards were playing and Babe Herman was on second base. The Brooklyns needed a run badly and the Babe was out there to get it, he figured.

Bressler, the batter, flied out to Orsatti. When the ball left the bat the Babe, who is a fast base runner, dashed back and put his toe on the bag.

As soon as the ball smacked into Orsatti's glove the Babe tore down to third and went into third with a great slide.

And lo! What did he find there? He found Gilbert, his teammate, standing on the bag. And the side was retired.

Tallman Passed Worthless Check In Tulare, Claim

TULARE, July 26.—(UP)—William Tallman passed a worthless check for $10 in a Tulare store June 8, two days after his disappearance from a Los Angeles-San Francisco boat, it was believed here today.

Three employes of a department store here, after seeing a picture of the missing radio operator, who is wanted in Los Angeles for the "clothes closet" murder of Mrs. Virginia Patty, said they were positive Tallman had been in this city.

The check was given M. G. Rose, store clerk, when the stranger bought a necktie. The check was signed Jack Lloyd and a notation of a fictitious Fresno address was made on the back.

Ross, when shown a picture of the fugitive, exclaimed, "My gosh, that's the man."

Legal Notice

NOTICE TO PLUMBING AND ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Trustees of the Capistrano Union High School District, will receive sealed bids for furnishing the required labor and materials for certain plumbing and electrical work required in connection with the erection and completion of a GYMNASIUM BUILDING in accordance with plans and specifications prepared therefor by T. C. Kistner & Company, Architects, 814 Architects Bldg., Los Angeles and 537 Spreckels Theatre Bldg., San Diego.

Contracts for the following work are contemplated:

PLUMBING WORK
ELECTRICAL WORK

Each bid shall be made out on a form furnished by the Architects; shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bidders' bond for an amount not less than five per cent (5%) of the bid, made payable to the order of the Board of Trustees of the Capistrano Union High School District and shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope endorsed to indicate the work bid upon and filed with the Secretary of the said Board on or before July 30th, 1929, at 1:00 o'clock P. M., at which time the bids will be opened and read in public in the office of the Board of Trustees, in the High School Building at San Juan Capistrano, California.

Each successful bidder will be required to furnish a surety bond for an amount equal to 50% of the contract price to insure payment of all material and labor claims and a similar bond for 50% of the contract price to insure faithful performance of the contract. These bonds to be subject to the approval of the said Board of Trustees.

The above mentioned check or bidders' bond is given as a guarantee that the bidder will, within seven days after having received written notification of the award of a contract to him, enter into a contract for the work in accordance with his bid and furnish the required surety bonds which will be declared forfeited should the bidder fail to execute the contract and furnish bonds as above mentioned; provided that said written notice of award of contract be given within ten days from the date the award is made.

Drawings and specifications for all of the above work are on file in the office of the said Board, and may be secured for bidding at the Architects' offices.

Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to waive any informality in any bid received.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the Capistrano Union High School District, Orange County, California.

By GUY WILLIAMS, Clerk.
Dated July 16, 1929.

IN THE MATTER OF ACQUISITION AND IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 6 OF THE COUNTY OF ORANGE.

Notice of Final Hearing Upon the Improvement.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the final hearing in the matter of the improvement made in the above named District will be had at the hour of 11 o'clock, A. M., on the 13th day of August, 1929, at the chambers of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, in the City of Santa Ana, State of California, under the provisions of Section 22 of the "Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1925," for the purpose of determining whether or not the work and improvement shall be accepted as being completed according to the contract, and for determining the aggregate amount for which bonds shall be issued to the contractor, or its assigns, therefor, and of furnishing an opportunity to all persons interested in any of the work or improvement done under the proceeding or in any matter affecting said improvement and the assessment district therefor, and feeling aggrieved by any act or determination done or made in the said proceeding, or claiming that any of the previous acts or proceedings are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty, or claiming that the work or improvement has not been performed according to the contract in a good and substantial manner, or claiming that any portion of the work or improvement for any reason was omitted or illegally included in the contract for the same, or having any objections to offer or any reason to advance why bonds should not be issued in the amount set forth in the Declaration and Statement on file, to appear before said legislative body and by it be heard upon any of the above mentioned matters.

The total amount for which said bonds are proposed to be issued is the sum of Ten thousand, four hundred Dollars, ($10,400.00); said bonds to bear interest at the rate of six (6) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and the aggregate principal of said bonds to be paid and discharged within ten (10) years after the date of issuance, approximately one-tenth (1/10) part of such aggregate principal to be payable annually, all in gold coin. A special fund for the payment of said bonds will be constituted by the levy of special assessment taxes upon the lands within said district as provided in the resolution of intention and in the above mentioned Act.

The attention of all persons interested is hereby directed to the provisions of said Act and to the proceedings in the above named matter and district, and particularly to the above mentioned Declaration and Statement, on file in the office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange.

(Seal) J. M. BACKS,
Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange.

NOTICE INVITING BIDS

Notice is hereby given that the City of Santa Ana, California, will receive bids up to the hour of 7:30 o'clock P. M., August 19th, 1929, for the furnishing of the following:

1000 feet of 2½ inch Fire Hose.
1500 feet of 1½ inch Fire Hose.

All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for ten (10) per cent of the amount bid to guarantee that the successful bidder will enter into contract with said city for furnishing said fire hose.

(Seal) E. L. VEGELY,
City Clerk of the City of Santa Ana, California.

HEAD MAKES REPLY TO COL. FINLEY: LUCAS

ficially or otherwise as between the two dam sites, and there was some division among them on that matter. No one connected with either company ever discussed with me my position as to the proper site, and I took no position on that matter prior to the engineer's report. Had the engineers been able to give assurance that there would be no shutting off of water by a dam at the upper site, I am sure everyone connected with the two companies would have preferred that site.

Litigation

There was never any talk or threat of litigation with the water companies if the dam were located at Prado. The nearest approach to that was when we attorneys were asked if the district could be held liable for damages if it placed a dam at Prado and it caused a loss of water resulting in damage to orchards or crops. Our answer was that it could if those facts were proved. The question and answer applied not to the water companies, but to the owners of property anywhere in the district affected by that condition, whether it be at Garden Grove, Orange, or Buena Park. But why do you ignore Judge Williams, Mr. Burke? He has always been considered one of our best lawyers, and was never accused of being anybody's "yes man."

No Politics

In fact Editor Burke's effort to find some deep political plot in connection with this flood control matter is absurd. Our supervisors are honest men, coming from different sections of the county, and each zealous for the best interest of the whole county. I think not one of them resides in territory supplied with water through the two water companies, or is a stockholder in either. If there were any secret meetings or if there were any "politics" of any kind in connection with the matter, I never heard of it, and if there had been I think I would have learned of it.

No Pay

In answer to one of Mr. Burke's statements, let me say that I never said that I received no pay for my work as one of the attorneys for the Flood Control District. On the contrary, I publicly stated that Judge Williams and I were paid for our services; that those services ended when we finished preparing the resolution calling the election, the notice of election and the form of ballot. I further stated that I was not paid for any work I did during bond election campaign, that I have never accepted pay for any part I take on public questions, and that no one, client or other, can dictate or influence my position in such matters.

I wish to compliment Mr. Burke on not hesitating to indulge in personalities. I would much rather receive a slap in the face than a stab in the back and have no use for cowardly insinuations.

A Prophecy

It is conceded that the only way of preventing flood damage by and conserving the storm waters of the Santa Ana river, in Orange county, is by the construction of a gigantic dam in the lower Santa Ana canyon, and that there are two available sites for that dam, one at Prado and one at the lower site. I predict that there will be nothing but wrangling about the matter until we are confronted with calamity by flood or water shortage; then, in a panic, we will vote bonds for a dam somewhere. When that is done, if the bonds can be sold, it will be at least ten years before any dam can be completed. The validity of the act and of the bonds must be tested by court action. Then there must be thousands of acres of land aequired, most of it by condemnation suit, and highways and railways taken, probably by suit. All this will require at last five years and must precede actual construction work, which itself will require five years. Even if completion of the dam is followed by wet years, it will require a number of years of operation to appreciably replenish our basin, for it is large and sustains a heavy draft. Meantime, Riverside and San Bernardino counties are moving to form a district of their own and prepare to catch the storm water far above us, to which we cannot object so long as we are not prepared to handle our share. What will happen to Orange county requires no prophet to relate.

That Auger

I hope I am a false prophet, but I make that prophecy because of what I have learned of water conditions and of human nature, and in spite of the fact that my good friend Jim Metzger assures me that notwithstanding the official records of fast lowering water levels through wet years and dry, and regardless what we have experienced in flood damage, nevertheless we need not be alarmed for there will be no water shortage or flood damage. So he proposes to take his time about it and do some investigating by boring some holes in the bedrock with a three inch auger. True we have already bored lots of holes and know that the bedrock is safe and solid at both sites; but there is some peculiar virtue in that three inch auger, so he must use it. Be careful, Jim; you might bore too far and let what little water is left run out through the hole!

JAIL S. A. MAN ON FAILURE TO PAY BOOZE FINE

A surprise raid on the home of Modesto Moreno, 42, at 1134 West Second street, late yesterday afternoon, netted Santa Ana police officers eight pints of whiskey and one prisoner, they reported today.

Moreno was arrested on a charge of possession of liquor and was lodged in the county jail. The liquor was found in a cupboard on the back porch of the house, it was reported.

Officers Hershey, Adams and Perry made the raid after they had received a tip that liquor was being dispensed there, the officers said.

Moreno pleaded guilty to the charge in Judge J. F. Talbott's police court this morning and was fined $300, which he was unable to pay. He was returned to jail to serve one day for each $2 of the fine.

M'GEE PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO PERJURY COUNT

First hints of a skirmish between counsel in the case of William R. McGee, of Los Angeles, charged with perjury, appeared in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court today when McGee pleaded not guilty to the charge.

McGee's attorney, Sidney Sampson, asked that the case be set for a date early in September, stating that the client would waive the statutory period for going to trial.

Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman suggested to the court that the prosecution would like to have as early a date as possible, pointing out that its witnesses would be more easily available than at a late date.

"What is your object in asking for the delay?" asked the court.

"Your honor, I have a rather full calendar for the next two weeks. And then, you see, I would like to take a vacation."

The court set the trial for August 20.

"How long will it take to try the case?" he asked.

"It should take about two days," replied Kaufman.

"I think one day would be enough parried Sampson. "If the prosecution is fast one day should be enough."

"The prosecution is fast all right," said Kaufman, "but the preliminary examination took almost one day and the trial will bring out much more testimony."

The court allowed two days for the trial.

The charge against McGee arose as a result of his testimony as an alibi witness for Walter Meeks, who was convicted here on a charge of selling liquor and was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

Police News

An automobile owned by Ysabel Martinez, of Mesa, Ariz., reported stolen from near Second and Ross streets last night, was recovered by officers a short time later.

Frank Morris, 53, found asleep in a box car on the Santa Fe tracks here last night, was arrested by Officer James Murray and lodged in the county jail on a vagrancy charge.

A. L. (Jake) Hart, 27, Placentia box maker, was arrested last night in Placentia on a reckless driving charge. He was lodged in the county jail.

CHARGE PATROL VIOLATED

Charged with violation of his parole, allowed him on a non-support charge several months ago, Fortuna Para, 36, of Placentia, was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Jemison and Ryan, yesterday, and lodged in the county jail. The complaining witness in the case is Para's wife.

HOOKS AND SLIDES
Henry L. Farrell

McMillan was hurt, as mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

"Joe McCarthy got a terrible shock in the sixth inning when McMillan lost a foul in the sun in front of the boxes behind third base. The ball cracked McMillan on the top of the head and bounced into the stands as the player went down in a heap. Norman shook off his dizziness, however, returned to his job and two innings later had the Giants dizzy with a spectacular stop. That's the spirit the Cubs have."

MY GOODNESS, ROGERS

Even the brightest of the boys pull their honors. In a recent game between the Giants and the Cubs, Hornsby and Grimm of the Chicagos were fagging themselves out trying to run down Cohen between first and second and Andy was having a swell time keeping them working. Umpire Hart finally stopped the fun. He went out and told Mr. Hornsby that the batter had been given a base on balls and that Mr. Cohen was entitled to second base without molestation.

THOSE FUNNY BROOKLYNS!

The Brooklyns pulled one a few days ago that made the umpires laugh. The Brooklyns, however, can be expected to do those things. In fact, the customers lay their money on the line to see the Brooklyns do those things.

The Brooklyns and the Cards were playing and Babe Herman was on second base. The Brooklyns needed a run badly and the Babe was out there to get it, he figured.

Bressler, the batter, flied out to Orsatti. When the ball left the bat the Babe, who is a fast base runner, dashed back and put his toe on the bag.

As soon as the ball smacked into Orsatti's glove the Babe tore down to third and went into third with a great slide.

And lo! What did he find there? He found Gilbert, his teammate, standing on the bag. And the side was retired.

Tallman Passed Worthless Check In Tulare, Claim

TULARE, July 26.—(UP)—William Tallman passed a worthless check for $10 in a Tulare store June 8, two days after his disappearance from a Los Angeles-San Francisco boat, it was believed here today.

Three employes of a department store here, after seeing a picture of the missing radio operator, who is wanted in Los Angeles for the "clothes closet" murder of Mrs. Virginia Patty, said they were positive Tallman had been in this city.

The check was given M. G. Rose, store clerk, when the stranger bought a necktie. The check was signed Jack Lloyd and a notation of a fictitious Fresno address was made on the back.

Rose, when shown a picture of the fugitive, exclaimed, "My gosh, that's the man."

NOTICE TO PLUMBING AND ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Trustees of the Capistrano Union High School District, will receive sealed bids for furnishing the required labor and materials for certain plumbing and electrical work required in connection with the erection and completion of a GYMNASIUM BUILDING in accordance with plans and specifications prepared therefor by T. C. Kistner & Company, Architects, 814 Architects Bldg., Los Angeles and 537 Spreckels Theatre Bldg., San Diego.

Contracts for the following work are contemplated:

PLUMBING WORK
ELECTRICAL WORK

Each bid shall be made out on a form furnished by the Architects; shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bidders' bond for an amount not less than five percent (5%) of the bid, made payable to the order of the Board of Trustees of the Capistrano Union High School District and shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope endorsed to indicate the work bid upon and filed with the Secretary of the said Board on or before July 30th, 1929, at 1:00 o'clock P. M., at which time the bids will be opened and read in public in the office of the Board of Trustees, in the High School Building at San Juan Capistrano, California.

Each successful bidder will be required to furnish a surety bond for an amount equal to 50% of the contract price to insure payment of all material and labor claims and a similar bond for 50% of the contract price to insure faithful performance of the contract. These bonds to be subject to the approval of the said Board of Trustees.

The above mentioned check or bidders' cond is given as a guarantee that the bidder will, within seven days after having received written notification of the award of a contract to him, enter into a contract for the work in accordance with his bid and furnish the required surety bonds which will be declared forfeited should the bidder fail to execute the contract and furnish bonds as above mentioned; provided that said written notice of award of contract be given within ten days from the date the award is made.

Drawings and specifications for all of the above work are on file in the office of the said Board, and may be secured for bidding at the Architects' offices.

Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to waive any informality in any bid received.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the Capistrano Union High School District, Orange County, California.

By GUY WILLIAMS, Clerk.

Dated July 16, 1929.

IN THE MATTER OF ACQUISITION AND IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 6 OF THE COUNTY OF ORANGE.

Notice of Final Hearing Upon the Improvement.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the final hearing in the matter of the improvement made in the above named District will be had at the hour of 11 o'clock, A. M., on the 13th day of August, 1929, at the chambers of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, in the City of Santa Ana, State of California, under the provisions of Section 22 of the "Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1925," for the purpose of determining whether or not the work and improvement shall be accepted as being completed according to the contract, and for determining the aggregate amount for which bonds shall be issued to the contractor, or its assigns, therefor, and of furnishing an opportunity to all persons interested in any of the work or improvement done under the proceeding or in any matter affecting said improvement and the assessment district therefor, and feeling aggrieved by any act or determination done or made in the said proceeding, or claiming that any of the previous acts or proceedings are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty, or claiming that the work or improvement has not been performed according to the contract in a good and substantial manner, or claiming that any portion of the work or improvement for any reason was omitted or illegally included in the contract for the same, or having any objections to offer or any reason to advance why bonds should not be issued in the amount set forth in the Declaration and Statement on file, to appear before said legislative body and by it be heard upon any of the above mentioned matters.

The total amount for which said bonds are proposed to be issued is the sum of Ten thousand, four hundred Dollars, ($10,400.00); said bonds to bear interest at the rate of six (6) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and the aggregate principal of said bonds to be paid and discharged within ten (10) years after the date of issuance, approximately one-tenth (1/10) part of such aggregate principal to be payable annually, all in gold coin. A special fund for the payment of said bonds will be constituted by the levy of special assessment taxes upon the lands within said district as provided in the resolution of intention and in the above mentioned Act.

The attention of all persons interested is hereby directed to the provisions of said Act and to the proceedings in the above named matter and district, and particularly to the above mentioned Declaration and Statement on file in the office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange.

(Seal) J. M. BACKS,
Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange.

STUDY THIS OVER

Nineteen acres of tillable land in Orange County, close to Santa Ana, for $8,000, trade accepted. Feel skeptical about it? So did we, but here's the facts: Practically all the ground is available for top crops, alfalfa grows profusely. There's a well and pumping plant, a house, barn, domestic water and tank. Also fronts on a paved boulevard. Any farmer can make plenty of money on this property at the price. $843.

STUDY THIS OVER

Nineteen acres of tillable land in Orange County, close to Santa Ana, for $8,000, trade accepted. Feel skeptical about it? So did we, but here's the facts: Practically all the ground is available for top crops, alfalfa grows profusely. There's a well and pumping plant, a house, barn, domestic water and tank. Also fronts on a paved boulevard. Any farmer can make plenty of money on this property at the price. $843.

JUSTICE AND "EQUAL RIGHTS"

The proposed Twentieth Amendment or "Equal Rights" Amendment because of the activities of its proponents, the National Woman's Party, is likely to be pressed upon people until most of us will be forced to take a stand one way or another upon it. Fortunately it has an antagonist in the National League of Women Voters which will do its best to present arguments in opposition, so that we have some assistance in an effort to arrive at a sane, unbiased opinion on the matter.

The proposed amendment states: "Men and women shall have equal rights throughout the United States and every place subject to its jurisdiction."

It sounds like a fine statement of all that women have been working for these many years. In actual practice, however, it would work for the benefit of the most unscrupulous commercial interests.

Miss Ethel Smith of the Executive Board of the Women's Trade Union League has carefully investigated the matter. The National League of Women Voters has published her findings in booklet form. Sanely she arrives at the conclusion that equality is relative, not an absolute thing and that differences may exist without inequality. "Economic and social justice is more vital to women than equality and legal terms on paper," maintains Miss Smith.

She points out that there are eleven phases on which there now exist legal inequalities between men and women. There are: citizenship (mainly in regard to naturalization provisions); eligibility to public office; jury service; party management; married women's property; the marriage age; divorce; non-support; guardianship of children; sex offenses; and public health and social welfare. The equal rights amendment would dispose in one thoughtless swoop of a myriad of legal inequalities on which there is a vast difference of opinion as to real justice in the matter. In fact, in many cases, justice reposes in legal provisions which are inequalities.

Many fine social welfare provisions would be nullified by this amendment, since a Constitutional amendment nullifies all laws in opposition to it. Some of these laws have been passed after most thoughtful consideration of social justice and society's duty to protect the handicapped.

But the real crux of the actual havoc which would be wrought by an "Equal Rights" amendment would center in laws regulating labor conditions for women.

"To jeopardize in one stroke," says a current weekly, "the great body of laws . . . regulating hours and providing minimum wages, would be utterly disastrous to several million wage-earning women in the United States most of them on the border line of poverty, or below it."

"To the trained business or professional woman," says Miss Smith, "who has the all-important choice of an alternative in taking a job, the 'equal rights' question is fundamentally a sex question; but to the body of women in the labor market where not only women themselves, but their husbands, brothers, fathers, and sons are the sufferers by their competition. . . . The thing that will bring industrial equality of men and women is equal bargaining powers."

The thousands of problems growing out of this new element in industry are too numerous, too important and too involved to be dealt with in any one brief amendment, much less one which would have the widespread nullification effect of this one..

CUSTOMERS AND MARKETS

Interesting figures on America's foreign trade are contained in a compilation just issued by the Central National Bank of Cleveland. This compilation shows that Europe is still our best customer. During the first quarter of 1929, Europe bought $647,480,000 worth of American products, selling us in return only $321,-315,000. England regained its old place as our biggest single customer, buying $235,523,000 worth of foods, and Canada buying $232,394-000, was a close second.

In the realm of imports, Asia proved our best market. The United States bought $324,-357,000 worth of Asia's goods, and took $254,-427,000 from Canada, Mexico and Central America.

The figures remember, are only for three months. Their stupendous size helps one to realize the vast extent of our commercial operations.

A LOP-SIDED ARGUMENT

You hear some weird and confusing arguments made in a criminal court. But here's one, heard recently in New York, that pretty nearly takes the palm.

A man was on trial for murder, accused of killing a rather notorious gangster. His attorney admitted that the defendant had done the killing, but argued that he had really done society a service, since he had removed a highly undesirable citizen. Hence, he said, he should escape punishment.

How heavily this weighed with the jury, we don't know; but at any rate the defendant got off with a manslaughter verdict instead of the murder verdict the prosecutor had asked.

The killing of a gangster is no loss to society, to be sure. But if we are to let private citizens take upon themselves the performance of such jobs we might as well discard our courts and police entirely.

DESERVES CONSIDERATION

The time is undoubtedly at hand when unhampered consideration can be given to a constructive flood control problem.

Engineer C. R. Browning has made a suggestion which is worth careful consideration. In an article in The Register July 18, he called attention to the waste of water in the Prado Basin, as evidenced by the moist land throughout the basin and the fact that much of the basin is covered with a dense growth of willows.

To conserve this waste of water, which is estimated at from 16,000 to 25,000 acre feet per year, he proposes tiling the basin. The tiling, however could not be done unless a dam is built at the outlet of the Prado basin "to stop the velocity of the water so that the tiling will not be washed out in time of flood," says Mr. Browning, and further:

"The outlet of the tiling system could be bypassed through the dam alongside a spillway tunnel with a valve to be closed at flood time. The spillway tunnel could be 10 to 15 feet below the present stream level, therefore, there would be drainage head sufficient to lower the water plane in the basin from eight to ten feet and from tests carried on by the U. S. government, it has been determined that evaporation can be eliminated by keeping the water level ten feet from the ground surface."

Mr. Browning proposes two plans to meet the objection of the water companies to the construction of the dam at Prado—one being several 30-inch openings through the cut-off wall at various elevations above bedrock in the channel of the river, the openings to be controlled by gates in towers and closed when flood water is in the reservoir. "Such openings," say Mr. Browning, "would allow the water to pass from the basin down the canyon without the backing up effect objected to in the Bailey plan."

The alternative plan for eliminating the backing up is the elimination of any cut-off wall from the stream bed down through the sands and gravel to bedrock. "This can be done," he says, "by increasing the base width of the dam to the point where the blanket over the sands and gravel will increase the friction of percolating water to a point greater than the hydrostatic pressure of water in the reservoir. This is practical in a dam of 93 feet in height, but not practical in the case of a high dam such as proposed by Bailey."

This plan of Mr. Browning appears to be worthy of consideration. We would like to have it passed upon by engineers.

Educational Outlay of State Huge

California is very generous in providing for its schools. This state has a great system of popular education through its public and parochial schools. The state, according to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will apportion out among the fifty-eight counties, more than $26,500,000 for the fiscal year 1929-30 for the support of elementary and high schools and junior colleges of the state. This huge sum all goes for payment of salaries of teachers.

Add to this the immense sums raised by taxation each year by the counties and municipalities of the state for support of schools and the millions in bond issues voted frequently for new school buildings and equipment and for additional grounds—and some comprehension may be had of the vast outlay this state makes for education.

There are those who criticise adversely certain phases of public education in this state and other states. Some of the criticism may be merited. It is not claimed for the public schools that they are perfect. Undoubtedly they have defects. But these are constantly under study by conscientious, talented men and women who are bent upon correcting blunders and improving the work of the schools.

But whatever the flaws that may exist in the public school system of this state and of other states, the fact remains that immeasurable good comes from the work of the schools. Intelligence is spread. Foundations are laid for extensive educational training for many. And all who attend the schools are lifted from the bog and blight of illiteracy. The public schools are the universities of the people—the temples of learning where the door opens wide in welcome to the children of the poor as well as the children of the rich.

Record Busting

Imperial Valley Press

This endurance flight business is becoming positively discouraging to newspaper men.

A record is no sooner made than it is broken, and heaven only knows what the end will be. The Question Mark's record was considered wonderful, only to look like nothing at all when Robbins and Kelly got through with it. Then came Mitchell and Newcomb to surpass the record by a couple of more hours.

When Reinhart and Mendell came down after 246 hours aloft, all sane men felt they had done something that would be a record for at least the remainder of the year. As this is written however, Jackson and O'Brine at St. Louis are within striking distance of the record and will undoubtedly surpass it today.

Their threat is to remain up three weeks, and who is there to doubt that they may do so? A week ago 246 hours looked like all eternity. Today it is just another discard and nothing more.

Some one of these days a couple of these endurance fellows are going to get up above and they'll have to be shot down like a couple of crows.

Was This Contempt?

Oakland Tribune

Judge Walther of Cleveland recently enjoined any interference with the operation of a race track and with the contribution system of betting "if the same be not in violation of the law."

Two newspapermen in the city held that "if" was absurd. A judge, they said, is expected to determine the question of the law and not leave the matter to sheriff or police.

For that, the judge sentenced the Cleveland writers to jail for contempt of court on the ground they criticised his action in a case still pending. Yet when he issued his injunction, the case was no longer pending.

The sentences for contempt cannot stand. They have served merely to arouse Cleveland and a great part of the country to an arbitrary act contrary to the constitutional right to freedom of the press.

More Truth Than Poetry

GOOD NEWS

It has been discovered that criminals are not all morons.

It always has riled me a trifle to hear
That the fellows who follow an evil career—
The burglar, the thug and the rough racketeer—
  Were men of inferior mind.
I've been told that the person who pilfered for gain
Was either a little deficient in brain;
And that more or less goofy—I should say insane—
  Is all of the criminal kind.

If men of the type who are quick on the draw
Can hold intellectual people in awe
And sinfully sneer at all semblance of law—
  If these scoundrels are mentally dense
And still can outwit us whenever they please,
Scoff lightly at social and legal decrees
And gather large fortunes with obvious ease,
  What's the use of possessing good sense?

It doesn't much flatter us good honest folk
To think that a low browed and moronic bloke
Considers us all in the light of a joke,
  And forever to have to beware,
When we go to our favorite night club to eat
Or drive in a car down the busiest street,
Of our lives and our cash if we happen to meet
  With a person who isn't all there.

And therefore it's pleasant the news to impart
That the people who practice the criminal art
Far from being obtuse, are exceedingly smart.
  Of our wits we could hardly be proud
If men who were patently weak in the bean
By dint of employing a blustering mein
Whenever they happened to come on the scene
  Could have us all instantly cowed.

Will the Chicago Police Strike?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

The other day in Chicago a seventeen-year-old boy tried to save a man from drowning. Perhaps the lad merely wanted to keep busy; and rescuing was the only job open. Or maybe he hated to stand idly by and see a fellow creature drown. At any rate, the boy tried to save him—kept at it for fifteen minutes.

Then the dripping lad was escorted to the police station and provided with dry clothes. He couldn't oblige the police by giving them his address, because he hadn't any address. He had just arrived in Chicago in search of a job, having walked all the way from Los Angeles.

The police set out to find him a job. If they succeed Chicago will be a poor place to drown in. The lake shore will be lined with rescuers looking for a job.

The procedure is simple: Walk a thousand miles, call your need to the attention of the police, and report for work.

But even the Chicago police can't give ALL their time to finding jobs for heroes. Some day they will strike. Another hero will be brought in who wants a job. And the weary police will say: "For heaven's sake, Bud, how many more of you unemployed birds ARE there?"

And Bud will say: "Officer, that's exactly what President Hoover intends to find out. Some day a man who really wants to work won't have to hang around the lake front, hoping that someone will try to drown himself."

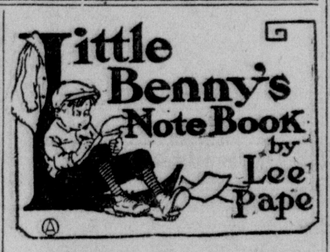
Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape



Yestidday afternoon I smelt a swell smell coming out of the kitchin, and I went and looked in the door and our cook Nora was pealing potatoes with a unsattisfied expression, me not saying anything on account of not being sure of the best thing to say ferst, and Nora sed, Well, whats all the staring and gawking for, do you see anything you dont like? Because if you do I dont wunt to hear abut it, she sed.

I smell something I like, all rite, I sed. I bet I know whats in the oven all rite, I sed. Meening muffins, and Nora sed, Well then in that case theres nuthing left to stand around for, so with your kind leave Ill deprive myself of your honorable company.

Me thinking, Aw heck I wouldent even give her the sattisfaction of asking her.

And I wawked away independent, and while I was going through the dining room I had a ideer, and I went and got a marble and tied one end of a peece of string around it and snuck back in the dining room and opened the closit door and put the marble in the bred box and closed the door agen with the string coming out from underneeth of it, and every time I pulled the string the marble would rattle in the bred box, and I yelled, Hay Nora, Nora, come here, these must be a mouse in the bred box, come here quick.

Wich she did, saying, The saints preserve us, how do you know?

Lissen to it, I sed. And I jerked the string behind my back and the marble rattled in the closit, Nora saying, O Ill be having the fainting hysterics. Take the bred box out in the yard like a good boy and leeve him loose.

Will you give me a muffin if I do? I sed, and she sed, Yes ony hurry, and I sed, Will you give me 2? and I made the marble rattle agen and she sed, Yes, yes, anything, O my hart is jumping like a heathen kangaroo, and I sed, Will you give me 3? and she sed, I will not, you plundering theeving spalpeen. And she gave me a mad push and made me drop the string and she saw it and I ran like the dickins without even one muffin.

Proving a lot depends on knowing when to stop.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

THE BOGEY OF SAMENESS

The spirit of man must keep itself free from the forces that seek to mold it to a set and changeless pattern, for, by and large, the differences of men, not the likenesses of men, are the radiant points at which life sprouts new values.

For this reason we rightly keep ourselves on guard against the possibility of letting the standardizing tendencies of the machine age get out of hand. But, as I suggested some time ago in this column, we can overdo our opposition to standardization, for it is not an unmixed evil, and the machine age is not the first age in which forces have sought to reduce men to a sameness.

Stuart Chase, in his "Men and Machines," brilliantly argues this point.

Every culture throughout history has, he suggests, meant a certain degree of standardization.

The caste system of India standardized men.

The state socialism of the Incas in old Peru standardized men.

The machine is standardizing life in modern Europe and modern America, as these older modes of life and work standardize the thoughts and habits of men, but there is this difference—the standards set up by the machine in modern times are far less fixed than the standards established by these older systems.

The machine not only makes standards easily, but it breaks them easily.

It may be unhealthy for a hundred million Americans, let us say, to kneel before some standard or fashion that the machine has created, but there is hope in the fact that we are fairly sure that they will be off their knees and kneeling before some changed and possibly improved standard or fashion three months later.

On all hands we are reminded that this is an age of ferment, of flux, of change, and citizens of a world of change are in less danger from standardization than citizens of a world that has crystalized.

Our problem is not to destroy standardization, but to use it throughout our civilization, standardizing everything that may be safely standardized so that our best energies may be left free for exploration in new fields of thought and action.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

SO SHOCKED

Harry was five years old. His father was a healthy, hearty man who paid little attention to the children believing that they could well be left to the care of their mother while he kept a waterproof roof over their heads.

There was a grandmother. She came regularly to visit, once in spring and again in fall, a month each time. Whenever she came Harry thought it was expected that he show improvement. A grandmother seemed to expect it.

"Why, you ought to see how big your cousin Ned has grown." "My, you ought to hear your cousin Ralph speak a piece." "My, my. Can't you do that? Your cousin Mickie can read a whole page through without even stopping for breath."

This time Harry was ready. When mother said, "Harry, you can go down now for the milk. The man just left it at the gate," the child drew himself to manly heights and said, "What have I got to go down for that blankety blank blank milk again?"

He swaggered out leaving a petrified mother and a shocked grandmother stricken into absolute silence. By and by breath returned and mother said, "He never said such a thing in all his life before."

"Indeed I suppose he kept that choice bit for his grandmother's ears," said the indignant old lady: Mother was hurt and angry. She wanted to do something to somebody to ease the strain on her own feelings. When Harry strode in with the milk and banked it on the table she was ready to skin him alive but there was something so very like his father, so very old in such a very young thing that the words died on her lips and all she could do was to say, "Put it in the ice box."

Well, perhaps the ice bax was as good a place as any to put the matter. But grandmother was not content to let it go at that. She had never been insulted so in all her life. To think that a child, and her grandchild at that, should use such language in her presence. In vain mother tried to soothe her, by telling her that the child had never used such language before and that he was only trying to show off how big he was before her. Grandmother was shocked and determined to stay shocked. Then mother lost all patience.

"Very well, mother. All I can say is that Harry learned those words and copied that manner from his own father, your son. You can't blame a child for copying his own father."

"Never was I so shocked. Never. I'm leaving on the very next train," said grandmother.

POSTOFFCE ORGANIZED

One hundred and fifty-four years ago today, on July 26, 1775, the Continental Congress established a postoffice department with Benjamin Franklin in charge as postmaster general.

Franklin was authorized to establish a line of posts from Falmouth, Me., to Savannah, Ga., and as many cross posts as might seem to him necessary.

In 1792 rates of postage for letters were fixed which remained unaltered for nearly half a century. They were: for 30 miles and under, 6 cents; over 30 miles and not exceeding 60 miles, 8 cents; over 60 miles and not exceeding 100 miles, 10 cents; and so on up to 450 miles and over, for which the charge was 25 cents.

In 1845 the rates were lowered and a scale based on weight as well as distance was adopted.

The element of distance as a factor in fixing rates was abolished in 1855, and a uniform rate of 3 cents was established for letters not exceeding one-half ounce in weight.

There was no house-to-house delivery service in the first postal system in the United States. The mail was sent from town to town by horseback and the residents called at the local postoffice for all their mail.

> "To the trained business or professional woman," says Miss Smith, "who has the all-important choice of an alternative in taking a job, the 'equal rights' question is fundamentally a sex question; but to the body of women in the labor market where not only women themselves, but their husbands, brothers, fathers, and sons are the sufferers by their competition. . . . The thing that will bring industrial equality of men and women is equal bargaining powers."

The thousands of problems growing out of this new element in industry are too numerous, too important and too involved to be dealt with in any one brief amendment, much less one which would have the widespread nullification effect of this one..

CUSTOMERS AND MARKETS

Interesting figures on America's foreign trade are contained in a compilation just issued by the Central National Bank of Cleveland. This compilation shows that Europe is still our best customer. During the first quarter of 1929, Europe bought $647,480,000 worth of American products, selling us in return only $321,315,000. England regained its old place as our biggest single customer, buying $235,523,000 worth of foods, and Canada buying $232,394,000, was a close second.

In the realm of imports, Asia proved our best market. The United States bought $324,357,000 worth of Asia's goods, and took $254,427,000 from Canada, Mexico and Central America.

The figures remember, are only for three months. Their stupendous size helps one to realize the vast extent of our commercial operations.

A LOP-SIDED ARGUMENT

You hear some weird and confusing arguments made in a criminal court. But here's one, heard recently in New York, that pretty nearly takes the palm.

A man was on trial for murder, accused of killing a rather notorious gangster. His attorney admitted that the defendant had done the killing, but argued that he had really done society a service, since he had removed a highly undesirable citizen. Hence, he said, he should escape punishment.

How heavily this weighed with the jury, we don't know; but at any rate the defendant got off with a manslaughter verdict instead of the murder verdict the prosecutor had asked.

The killing of a gangster is no loss to society, to be sure. But if we are to let private citizens take upon themselves the performance of such jobs we might as well discard our courts and police entirely.

DESERVES CONSIDERATION

The time is undoubtedly at hand when unhampered consideration can be given to a constructive flood control problem.

Engineer C. R. Browning has made a suggestion which is worth careful consideration. In an article in The Register July 18, he called attention to the waste of water in the Prado Basin, as evidenced by the moist land throughout the basin and the fact that much of the basin is covered with a dense growth of willows.

To conserve this waste of water, which is estimated at from 16,000 to 25,000 acre feet per year, he proposes tiling the basin. The tiling, however could not be done unless a dam is built at the outlet of the Prado basin "to stop the velocity of the water so that the tiling will not be washed out in time of flood," says Mr. Browning, and further:

> "The outlet of the tiling system could be bypassed through the dam alongside a spillway tunnel with a valve to be closed at flood time. The spillway tunnel could be 10 to 15 feet below the present stream level, therefore, there would be drainage head sufficient to lower the water plane in the basin from eight to ten feet and from tests carried on by the U. S. government, it has been determined that evaporation can be eliminated by keeping the water level ten feet from the ground surface."

Mr. Browning proposes two plans to meet the objection of the water companies to the construction of the dam at Prado—one being several 30-inch openings through the cut-off wall at various elevations above bedrock in the channel of the river, the openings to be controlled by gates in towers and closed when flood water is in the reservoir. "Such openings, " say Mr. Browning, "would allow the water to pass from the basin down the canyon without the backing up effect objected to in the Bailey plan."

The alternative plan for eliminating the backing up is the elimination of any cut-off wall from the stream bed down through the sands and gravel to bedrock. "This can be done," he says, "by increasing the base width of the dam to the point where the blanket over the sands and gravel will increase the friction of percolating water to a point greater than the hydrostatic pressure of water in the reservoir. This is practical in a dam of 93 feet in height, but not practical in the case of a high dam such as proposed by Bailey."

This plan of Mr. Browning appears to be worthy of consideration. We would like to have it passed upon by engineers.

Educational Outlay of State Huge

California is very generous in providing for its schools. This state has a great system of popular education through its public and parochial schools. The state, according to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will apportion out among the fifty-eight counties, more than $26,500,000 for the fiscal year 1929-30 for the support of elementary and high schools and junior colleges of the state. This huge sum all goes for payment of salaries of teachers.

Add to this the immense sums raised by taxation each year by the counties and municipalities of the state for support of schools and the millions in bond issues voted frequently for new school buildings and equipment and for additional grounds—and some comprehension may be had of the vast outlay this state makes for education.

There are those who criticise adversely certain phases of public education in this state and other states. Some of the criticism may be merited. It is not claimed for the public schools that they are perfect. Undoubtedly they have defects. But these are constantly under study by conscientious, talented men and women who are bent upon correcting blunders and improving the work of the schools.

But whatever the flaws that may exist in the public school system of this state and of other states, the fact remains that immeasurable good comes from the work of the schools. Intelligence is spread. Foundations are laid for extensive educational training for many. And all who attend the schools are lifted from the bog and blight of illiteracy. The public schools are the universities of the people—the temples of learning where the door opens wide in welcome to the children of the poor as well as the children of the rich.

Record Busting

Imperial Valley Press

This endurance flight business is becoming positively discouraging to newspaper men.

A record is no sooner made than it is broken, and heaven only knows what the end will be. The Question Mark's record was considered wonderful, only to look like nothing at all when Robbins and Kelly got through with it. Then came Mitchell and Newcomb to surpass the record by a couple of more hours.

When Reinhart and Mendell came down after 246 hours aloft, all sane men felt they had done something that would be a record for at least the remainder of the year. As this is written however, Jackson and O'Brine at St. Louis are within striking distance of the record and will undoubtedly surpass it today.

Their threat is to remain up three weeks, and who is there to doubt that they may do so? A week ago 246 hours looked like all eternity. Today it is just another discard and nothing more.

Some one of these days a couple of these endurance fellows are going to get up above and they'll have to be shot down like a couple of crows.

Was This Contempt?

Oakland Tribune

Judge Walther of Cleveland recently enjoined any interference with the operation of a race track and with the contribution system of betting "if the same be not in violation of the law."

Two newspapermen in the city held that "if" was absurd. A judge, they said, is expected to determine the question of the law and not leave the matter to sheriff or police.

For that, the judge sentenced the Cleveland writers to jail for contempt of court on the ground they criticised his action in a case still pending. Yet when he issued his injunction, the case was no longer pending.

The sentences for contempt cannot stand. They have served merely to arouse Cleveland and a great part of the country to an arbitrary act contrary to the constitutional right to freedom of the press.

More Truth Than Poetry

GOOD NEWS

It has been discovered that criminals are not all morons.

It always has riled me a trifle to hear
That the fellows who follow an evil career—
The burglar, the thug and the rough racketeer—
Were men of inferior mind.
I've been told that the person who pilfered for gain
Was either a little deficient in brain;
And that more or less goofy—I should say insane—
Is all of the criminal kind.

If men of the type who are quick on the draw
Can hold intellectual people in awe
And sinfully sneer at all semblance of law—
If these scoundrels are mentally dense
And still can outwit us whenever they please,
Scoff lightly at social and legal decrees
And gather large fortunes with obvious ease,
What's the use of possessing good sense?

It doesn't much flatter us good honest folk
To think that a low browed and moronic bloke
Considers us all in the light of a joke,
And forever to have to beware,
When we go to our favorite night club to eat
Or drive in a car down the busiest street,
Of our lives and our cash if we happen to meet
With a person who isn't all there.

And therefore it's pleasant the news to impart
That the people who practice the criminal art
Far from being obtuse, are exceedingly smart.
Of our wits we could hardly be proud
If men who were patently weak in the bean
By dint of employing a blustering mein
Whenever they happened to come on the scene
Could have us all instantly cowed.

Will the Chicago Police Strike?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

The other day in Chicago a seventeen-year-old boy tried to save a man from drowning. Perhaps the lad merely wanted to keep busy; and rescuing was the only job open. Or maybe he hated to stand idly by and see a fellow creature drown. At any rate, the boy tried to save him—kept at it for fifteen minutes.

Then the dripping lad was escorted to the police station and provided with dry clothes. He couldn't oblige the police by giving them his address, because he hadn't any address. He had just arrived in Chicago in search of a job, having walked all the way from Los Angeles.

The police set out to find him a job. If they succeed Chicago will be a poor place to drown in. The lake shore will be lined with rescuers looking for a job.

The procedure is simple: Walk a thousand miles, call your need to the attention of the police, and report for work.

But even the Chicago police can't give ALL their time to finding jobs for heroes. Some day they will strike. Another hero will be brought in who wants a job. And the weary police will say: "For heaven's sake, Bud, how many more of you unemployed birds ARE there?"

And Bud will say: "Officer, that's exactly what President Hoover intends to find out. Some day a man who really wants to work won't have to hang around the lake front, hoping that someone will try to drown himself."

Yestidday afternoon I smelt a swell smell coming out of the kitchin, and I went and looked in the door and our cook Nora was pealing potatoes with a unsattisfied expression, me not saying anything on account of not being sure of the best thing to say ferst, and Nora sed, Well, whats all the staring and gawking for, do you see anything you dont like? Because if you do I dont wunt to hear abut it, she sed.

I smell something I like, all rite, I sed. I bet I know whats in the oven all rite, I sed. Meening muffins, and Nora sed, Well then in that case theres nuthing left to stand around for, so with your kind leave Ill deprive myself of your honorable company.

Me thinking, Aw heck I wouldent even give her the sattisfaction of asking her.

And I wawked away independent, and while I was going through the dining room I had a ideer, and I went and got a marble and tied one end of a peece of string around it and snuck back in the dining room and opened the closit door and put the marble in the bred box and closed the door agen with the string coming out from underneeth of it, and every time I pulled the string the marble would rattle in the bred box, and I yelled, Hay Nora, Nora, come here, these must be a mouse in the bred box, come here quick.

Wich she did, saying, The saints preserve us, how do you know?

Lissen to it, I sed. And I jerked the string behind my back and the marble rattled in the closit, Nora saying, O Ill be having the fainting hysterics. Take the bred box out in the yard like a good boy and leeve him loose.

Will you give me a muffin if I do? I sed, and she sed, Yes ony hurry, and I sed, Will you give me 2? and I made the marble rattle agen and she sed, Yes, yes, anything, O my hart is jumping like a heathen kangaroo, and I sed, Will you give me 3? and she sed, I will not, you plundering theeving spalpeen. And she gave me a mad push and made me drop the string and she saw it and I ran like the dickins without even one muffin.

Proving a lot depends on knowing when to stop.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

THE BOGEY OF SAMENESS

The spirit of man must keep itself free from the forces that seek to mold it to a set and changeless pattern, for, by and large, the differences of men, not the likenesses of men, are the radiant points at which life sprouts new values.

For this reason we rightly keep ourselves on guard against the possibility of letting the standardizing tendencies of the machine age get out of hand. But, as I suggested some time ago in this column, we can overdo our opposition to standardization, for it is not an unmixed evil, and the machine age is not the first age in which forces have sought to reduce men to a sameness.

Stuart Chase, in his "Men and Machines," brilliantly argues this point.

Every culture throughout history has, he suggests, meant a certain degree of standardization.

Ancestor worship in China standardized men.

The church of medieval Europe standardized men.

The caste system of India standardized men.

The state socialism of the Incas in old Peru standardized men.

The machine is standardizing life in modern Europe and modern America, as these older modes of life and work standardize the thoughts and habits of men, but there is this difference—the standards set up by the machine in modern times are far less fixed than the standards established by these older systems.

The machine not only makes standards easily, but it breaks them easily.

It may be unhealthy for a hundred million Americans, let us say, to kneel before some standard or fashion that the machine has created, but there is hope in the fact that we are fairly sure that they will be off their knees and kneeling before some changed and possibly improved standard or fashion three months later.

On all hands we are reminded that this is an age of ferment, of flux, of change, and citizens of a world of change are in less danger from standardization than citizens of a world that has crystalized.

Our problem is not to destroy standardization, but to use it throughout our civilization, standardizing everything that may be safely standardized so that our best energies may be left free for exploration in new fields of thought and action.

OUR CHILDREN

SO SHOCKED

Harry was five years old. His father was a healthy, hearty man who paid little attention to the children believing that they could well be left to the care of their mother while he kept a waterproof roof over their heads.

There was a grandmother. She came regularly to visit, once in spring and again in fall, a month each time. Whenever she came Harry thought it was expected that he show improvement. A grandmother seemed to expect it.

"Why, you ought to see how big your cousin Ned has grown." "My, you ought to hear your cousin Ralph speak a piece!" "My, my. Can't you do that? Your cousin Mickie can read a whole page through without even stopping for breath."

This time Harry was ready. When mother said, "Harry, you can go down now for the milk. The man just left it at the gate," the child drew himself to manly heights and said, "What have I got to go down for that blankety blank blank milk again?"

He swaggered out leaving a petrified mother and a shocked grandmother stricken into absolute silence. By and by breath returned and mother said, "He never said such a thing in all his life before."

"Indeed I suppose he kept that choice bit for his grandmother's ears," said the indignant old lady: Mother was hurt and angry. She wanted to do something to somebody to ease the strain on her own feelings. When Harry strode in with the milk and banked it on the table she was ready to skin him alive but there was something so very like his father, so very old in such a very young thing that the words died on her lips and all she could do was to say, "Put it in the ice box."

Well, perhaps the ice bax was as good a place as any to put the matter. But grandmother was not content to let it go at that. She had never been insulted so in all her life. To think that a child, and her grandchild at that, should use such language in her presence. In vain mother tried to soothe her, by telling her that the child had never used such language before and that he was only trying to show off how big he was before her. Grandmother was shocked and determined to stay shocked. Then mother lost all patience.

"Very well, mother. All I can say is that Harry learned those words and copied that manner from his own father, your son. You can't blame a child for copying his own father."

"Never was I so shocked. Never. I'm leaving on the very next train," said grandmother.

POSTOFFCE ORGANIZED

One hundred and fifty-four years ago today, on July 26, 1775, the Continental Congress established a postoffice department with Benjamin Franklin in charge as postmaster general.

Franklin was authorized to establish a line of posts from Falmouth, Me., to Savannah, Ga., and as many cross posts as might seem to him necessary.

In 1792 rates of postage for letters were fixed which remained unaltered for nearly half a century. They were: for 30 miles and under, 6 cents; over 30 miles and not exceeding 60 miles, 8 cents; over 60 miles and not exceeding 100 miles, 10 cents; and so on up to 450 miles and over, for which the charge was 25 cents.

In 1845 the rates were lowered and a scale based on weight as well as distance was adopted.

The element of distance as a factor in fixing rates was abolished in 1855, and a uniform rate of 3 cents was established for letters not exceeding one-half ounce in weight.

There was no house-to-house delivery service in the first postal system in the United States. The mail was sent from town to town by horseback and the residents called at the local postoffice for all their mail.
